A Ferocious Wild Cat Nearly Tears a Mis

The wild cat which did so much dam age, and created such chusternation here last fall, paid us another visit on Sunday last. The general supposition is that it entered the village some time during Saturday night and remained in some secluded place during the day, Immediately after dark, however, his catship sallied forth, entered the house of Thomas Rowane, and made a general onslaught on the entire family. It first made a spring at Mr. Rowane, who St. Thomas, Oct. 27.—A terrible acci- struggled manfully against such terrible odds, but being overpowered, he fell exhausted to the floor, torn and lacerated heroically ventured their lives in his de fence, and after a terrible struggle, in jured, they succeeded in driving the beast away. Fearing its return, Mrs. Rowane ran for help, and soon a number of persons went to the relief of the fam-ily, which was found in a fearful state of terror and excitement. The animal afterwards attacked Chief Henry, on George street, and, although terror striken, he succeeded in escaping with a few-flesh wounds and some rough handling. The animal is described by those who saw him, as standing about 21 feet high, built in proportion, and fearfully ferocious in appearance. It is thought that a large bounty will be offered for its
