The Potato Situation!

OLD POTATOES in the United States are very high in price and there appears to be very little likelihood of any decline in this vegetable for some little time at least.

NEW POTATOES are arriving in New York in limited quantities, but the price asked by dealers (exclusive of exchange) is practically prohibitive.

POTATOES from the Old Country are embargoed and therefore unprocurable.

CHARLOTTETOWN stock is nearly exhausted but we were fortunate in securing a small shipment which we offer to arrive to-day ex "Canadian Miner" and would advise our customers to secure their requirements without delay as conditions indicate a potato famine before this year's crop will be on the market.
