Looking Forward.

The year 1921 has closed its books and struck its balance against time. With it we have no more to do, excepting in that we profit by the experience gained, and so direct the future that all the mistakes made, all the errors committed in every walk of national, commercial and political life be avoided. The lessons learned from the conduct of the country's general affairs during the past year were costly. Need they be repeated in all their expensiveness in 1922? Rather would it not be much better if a change were brought about in many of our antiquated and obsolete methods? The age calls for progress, and the people who do not respond earnestly to that call are doomed. To join in the clamor "Give us bread or we die" is not the duty of the hour, nor is it the way to make for prosperity. Before us lies the unknown, behind us the known year. Our main business then is to arrange for that which lies ahead as best we can, governing ourselves by the knowledge of the past. As New Year succeeds New Year there is ever a desire to get out of the old ruts, but tradition and established system is too strong, and if for the first month an effort is made toward improvement, and the introduction of modern ideas, it never reaches fruition, and there is an unconscious dropping back to the old plans with which all are so familiar. Newfoundland needs a galvanic shock to infuse new life, to compel a complete adoption of entirely new methods. The lethargy characteristic of the moment must be thrown off and greater activity in all directions cultivated.

The golden opportunity shines on the horizon of 1922. This is the year when we must get out of worn channels and make new passage ways and high roads leading to prosperity. For many years now it has become obvious that Newfoundland can no longer place her chief reliance on the returns from the various fishing industries. Everybody is at least coming to a realization of this statement as a fact. Not that the resources of the ocean are being depleted, but that growing Newfoundlanders do not take kindly to the employment, and as they enter manhood seek other avenues. This being the case it is not the main business of the hour to take up the matter of internal development. The area of Newfoundland is forty-two thousand square miles. Apart from the few pulp and lumber industries in the interior, the remainder is undeveloped. And yet there is coal in quantities, and other minerals waiting the stroke of the pick and the push of the shovel. 1922 must be the year of development. We have waited too long on those who tell us that we should not be too liberal to capitalists who wish to come in to the Colony and do something in the way of improvement. We have listened and applauded thinking we are doing the country a service by keeping them out, and what have we profited? NOTHING. Shall such a stubbornness be allowed to further prevent the development which we must have, which must come? Whosoever stands in the way of the chariot of progress will be run over and mangled. The pages of the past contain a legion of names of those who endeavored to stay the wheels of industry, and were crushed in the machinery. Newfoundland does not want any added to that list during 1922. If the fisheries are insufficient—and they are—the wealth of the earth and forest and water has to be drawn upon, and exceptional opportunities are being offered to this end.

Twenty Years Ago To-Day.

According to the back files of the Telegram the weather this date was spring like and the cross country trains almost without exception were well up to date.

Prof. E. Stone Wiggins, astronomer, threatened to take legal proceedings to upset Marconi's patent for wireless telegraphy. Signor Marconi was then in Ottawa, after a visit here where he conducted his experiments. De Wet ordered the Boers commandos to stop at any cost the work of extension of the British block-house system.

Schooner Baden Powell arrived at Burnt during a fierce storm on Dec. 27th. Many other vessels were driven off and some were wrecked amongst them being the schooner Maud owned by Strong & Murrell. The Maud went ashore at Broad Cove and most of her cargo of 1400 qts. of fish was more or less spoiled.

Society United Fishermen.

James Rendell and other Grand Lodge members at the Lodge Room last night, in presence of a goodly gathering of the fraternity. The list of officers of the Lodge has already been published. Following the ceremony congratulatory addresses were made by the Grand Officers to which the newly installed made reply appropriate to the occasion. A social hour was subsequently spent in the dining hall, when the following toast list, interspersed with songs, was taken up, the Worthy Master of St. John's Lodge, Bro. H. E. Will Produce Movies Here.

We learn that a moving picture concern, of which Mr. Ernest Shipman, producer of "Back to God's Country" is one of the principals, will start taking a series of pictures in the early spring. Beginning at St. John's, and going through the interior, it is the intention of the company to include some of our best scenery in their productions. These will be of the Ralph Connor class of story, Mr. Ronald Young, a well known local movie man, is now engaged selecting sites for the first pictures.

Research Work Finished.

Sir P. T. McGrath Returns—Brings Documents on Labrador Boundary Question.

A great deal of valuable information which would have an important bearing on the Labrador Boundary Question was gleaned by Sir P. T. McGrath, who returned yesterday from Canada. Sir Patrick was commissioned by the Government to search the archives of many Canadian and American city libraries for information which might have some effect in strengthening our case when the matter comes before the Privy Council. Sir Patrick, as a result of his researches, brought back with him two large trunks containing documents, books, maps, photographs, and other matter. In Winnipeg, Sir Patrick delved into the archives of the Hudson Bay Company and obtained a great deal of valuable information from this source. A careful examination was also made of the official records at Ottawa and the Parliamentary Library of the capital city also received a thorough search. In the United States Sir Patrick visited the following places in his efforts to glean information pertinent to the Boundary Question: Congressional State Department at Washington, the Boston and New York Public Libraries, the Library at Harvard University, and the John Carter Brown Library at the Brown University, Providence, R.I. The latter is probably the most valuable library of its class in the world, having perhaps the most complete and valuable collection of pamphlets and kindred publications connected with early colonial history in America. The publications and documents contained in its rooms are valued at more than one and a half million dollars.

Depression in Canada.

According to Sir Patrick, considerable depression exists in Canada and the United States. The spirit of optimism, however, is predominant, and all are of the opinion that the present year will see a return to normal conditions and that prospects for the future are bright. The unemployment question is at present demanding the concentrated attention of the Canadian Government and Municipal authorities. Everything possible is being done to relieve the situation during the winter. Sir Patrick had a most unpleasant experience on his journey home, as he was a passenger in the first-class car which was derailed on Friday night when a snow slide hit the express. He suffered no injuries, however, and is now enjoying the best of health.

Star of the Sea Association.

The annual parade of the Star of the Sea Association on Sunday next promises to be a record one. Chairman W. H. Jackman and his energetic committee are busy at work arranging the details. The parade will take place from the Society's new hall, Henry Street, and proceed to St. Patrick's Church, where His Grace the Archbishop will preach a special sermon to the members. Two bands of music will accompany the parade, and the colours of the Society will be drawn by double teams of horses. Sleights will be provided for the older members. The new hall will be profusely decorated in honor of the event. It has been arranged to have a photograph of the Society taken at the site of the hall immediately after the parade, and it behooves every member of the Association to get in on this picture.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR GARGET IN COWS.

The New Council.

The first meeting of the new Council is scheduled for to-morrow, but so far the newly elected Mayor and Councillors have not been gazetted. Until the announcement of their election appears in the Royal Gazette they are unable to assume office and a curious situation therefore arises. According to the Charter the new Council should take over the control of the city on January 1st.

Repairs to R. C. Cathedral.

Work on the interior of the R. C. Cathedral will be resumed next week. Previous to the Christmas season workmen were engaged removing the pillar supports of the roof, which are of brick, and substituting freestone. For the purpose of removal four massive wooden supports had to be erected to carry the weight of the roof. Each of the temporary supports carry a weight of sixty-five tons. The pillars which project from the walls by about eight inches on the inside of the building show an average thickness of about four feet.

Pony Stolen.

Some mischievous youths stole a pony yesterday belonging to a Mrs. Ryan of Bay Bay. The unfortunate woman was compelled to wander all over town looking for her property as a result of this despicable trick. The pony was found to-day and the names of those who took it are in the possession of the police. Mrs. Ryan came to town yesterday with clothes for various citizens and was seriously inconvenienced by the temporary loss of her pony and cart.

S. P. C. A. Extension.

The S. P. C. A. Society, which is doing good work around St. John's, is gradually extending its influence. In this connection Inspector Jonas Barber has been visiting the principal towns in Conception Bay. He reported to the city by last night's train and reports that many of the prominent citizens of both Harbor Grace and Carbonear have identified themselves with the work of the Society.

Kyle Off Schedule.

S. S. Kyle has been put off schedule on account of the delays consequent upon the derailment of the express last week. She left Port aux Basques yesterday for North Sydney and will leave that place this afternoon on the return trip. Under ordinary conditions an express should have left Port aux Basques this morning with foreign mails and passengers.

Stole Hockey Equipment.

Two well dressed boys of respectable appearance were charged before Judge Morris to-day with stealing a dozen hockey sticks, four pairs of skates and two dozen pucks from Harvey & Co.'s premises. They pleaded guilty. Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., appeared for one of the accused and Hon. M. P. Gibbs, K.C., for the other. There was apparently no excuse for the accused, who had taken enough goods to half equip a hockey team. The Judge, in imposing fines of $10 or $20 days, remarked that he could not understand what was wrong with the moral balance of the community.

Schooner Wrecked.

The schooner Bohemia, owned by St. Pierre firm, was wrecked off St. Pierre in the gale of Friday night. The crew landed safely. This news was received in a message to a Water St. business man, but no particulars are known concerning the owners of the schooner or her destination and cargo at the time she was abandoned.

Assaulted His Wife.

A QUESTION OF RELIGION.

A man was charged before Judge Morris to-day with assaulting his wife. Plaintiff said accused had not done any work since June last. He had told her that he would work for her if she could follow his religion. The accused stated he had been married six years. "What are you?" asked the Judge. "I follow the R. C. Church your Honor," answered accused. He said he went to Labrador last summer and when he returned his wife had sold his home and had gone to St. Mary's. He wanted a separation. He admitted tapping her on the shoulder with a stick. Accused was fined $5 or 10 days.

Shipping Notes.

Foreign Markets Reviewed.

In a communication from London received by last mail a well known business firm has received the following resume of the foreign markets:—The letter says the position generally is very little altered lately, the chief matter being the exchange difficulties in Portugal, which has reduced prices by about 6 shillings. In Spain the demand for Shore fish is poor, unless the fish is to be sacrificed. For Labrador the demand is nil at any price. In Italy the prices for Shore show weakness. Large steamers have arrived there and discharged their cargoes. Unfortunately, most of the fish was held up for some time by a Railway Strike, which affected the docks, and the loss of consumption in consequence is estimated at between 10 and 15 thousand quintals. The Christmas trade this year was practically nil and the usual demand for Large fish did not mature and there is a possibility of a decline of about 7 shillings for Labrador. Spain so far is out of the market and will likely be so for some time. The exchange situation in Portugal is expected to improve in the near future and profitable sales could then be made. Much however depends on the attitude of the merchants in selling on consignment. If outright sales are made a decline in price will be avoided. As naturally the Portuguese merchants selling fish which they had paid for, will hold for prices that would give them a profit. The letter concludes by stating that a considerable reduction in the local buying price of Labrador is necessary if any profit is to be expected.

New Year's Day.

A few still observe January 1st as a day for making good resolutions, and that, in these modern times, is the sole remnant of sentimentality that attaches to the day.

The fact that on January 1st dog licences are due, also Land Tax, Income Tax, Inhabited House Duty, and Establishment Licences, may be responsible! But in the good old times the first day of the New Year held all sorts of quaint observances.

There still remains here and there in remote places the one-time universal practice of taking something into the house on New Year's morning before anything is taken out. The old rhyme runs: "Take out, then take in, Bad luck will begin. Take in, then take out, Good luck comes about."

Another superstitious observance was the chance opening of a Bible early on New Year's morning. A finger had to be placed on a chapter, and that, when read, was supposed to hold an infallible indication of what the year would bring forth.

Once it was deemed most unlucky for any to take a light out of the house on New Year's Day. A death in the household would be sure to follow if the belief were defied. It was terribly unlucky, too, if a female were the first visitor at a house and was permitted to enter. No ashes, dirty water, or broken or worthless article must be thrown out of a house on January 1st.

Finally, to sneeze on New Year's Day was deemed a presage of illness.

NOT ON KYLE.—R. C. Morgan, Chairman of the Railway Commission and General Manager, is not on the Kyle which leaves North Sydney to-day. He may return to Newfoundland next week.

The late Mr. Byrne was married but had no children.
