TOOK LAUDANUM.

Chatham, Ont., April 9.-William Cruickshank, a man living alone in North Chatham, died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 8:30 last evening from an overdose of laudanum, administered undoubtedly by himself. Joseph Northwood, a neighbor, in making his daily call on the old man, found the house fastened at noon, and, being suspicious that something was wrong, notified Dr. Rutherford, who had been treating him for incompile and also wrong, notified Dr. Rutherford, who had been treating him for insomnia, and also sent for a policeman, who forced entrance and found Cruickshank unconscious, with an empty ounce bottle labeled "Laudanum," by his side. He was removed to the hospital. Cruickshank, who lost his wife a year ago, was despondent. He has a son, W. E., a student in the medical school at Toronto. Another son, Ernest, is in Chicago.

New York, April 8.—An old man, neatly clothed, and wearing a G. A. R. button, has committed suicide in a doorway on University Place, by shooting. From papers found it was learned that he was Oscar de Camp Taylor, discharged from the Union army at Murfreesboro, Tenn., May 18, 1863. He was mustered out as adjutant of the 110th Illinois Volunteers. A personal letter from President Hayes, praising his valiant services, was found in his pocket. Poverty evidently caused the suicide.

Mr. Brock—Do you deny that it is injuring our manufacturers?

Mr. Paterson admitted he entertained a belief that one line which had been mentioned had been hurt somewhat, and he sympathized with it, but recognized that in framing any tariff there were a great many interests to be considered, and it was not easy to have the tariff right in every detail.
