

INDIANS BREAK EVEN ON SERIES BY WINNING FROM OTTAWA ON SATURDAY

TERRIFIC CLOUTING IN FOURTH GAVE LONDON WIN OVER OTTAWA

Senators Were Leading Up to That Time, But Indians Scored Five Runs and Grabbed the Game—Both Teams Played Loosely in the Field.

By one of the best expositions of consecutive clouting seen in a local ball field in years, the Tecumsehs took the measure of Doc Cook's Ottawa pennant pole chasers by Manager Hus Doc Cook's Ottawa pennant pole chasts by a score of 7 to 3 on Saturday afternoon. There was a great array of bugs and bugesses at the pastiming, in fact, about the largest crowd of the season enthused over the victory. The game was great from the spectator's standpoint, it being crammed with a superstance of the season enthused over the victory.

spectator's standpoint, it being crammed with excitement from start to sunset.

As mentioned before, the game was frapped by some lusty lamming in the fourth inning. Prior to that time, the Cookies had accumulated a load of two runs due altogether to some rough-house support given Matthew Hynes, Esg., Palmerston, A nicelooking young person, named Draper was handing up some left-handed shoots in fine fashion for the visitors. He had four cylinder steam at work, and looked like a real inder steam at work, and looked like a real winner. For two innings there was little doing with him. In the third he shot a few C. Q. D. signals, but managed to stagger through without much damage.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

Then something happened. Base hits were as common as mosquitos in New Jersey, or as beer bottles at a Dutch picnic. Five Tecumsehs hit, slashing singles in a row, and by the time the three men were retired the game. Was in the cooler. Mr. Draper continued to pastime until the beng of the fifth. Mr. Earl Powell combed the first ball he tossed to the left fence for three stations, and then Doc Cook sent Draper to the dugout, and Mr.

On the other hand, Mr. Matthew Hynes was on the kopie for the Bowerman-ites, and he showed the home folks that he is some twirler. Matthew has pitched games when he has been hit less often, but he never pitched a game where he looked better. He pitched some stellar ball all the way, and should have had the fracas at the expense of much less exertion.

The Ottawas did not look as good as the day previous, and were taken completely off their feet by the bombardment. Baseball's $15,000 Worth of Boy Beauties and Their Beautiful Boss SENATORS CONTINUE American Association is owned by a weman-a beautiful woman-Mrs. harles Havenor, and Mrs. Havenor so owns a couple of boy baseball auties whose value has shot up uring this short season to $15,000.

No. 1 of these beauties is Harry 'Nemo") Leibeld, who is playing in the Brewers' outheld. Leibold is the smallest player in the country and the fans thought someone was perpetrating a joke when he went to bat the first time. This was in Louisville, when the bases were crowded. His three-base hit and subsequent scoring on a short passed ball was no joke to

Manager Hugh Duffy, watching the cungster pull down a low fly, near his hoestrings after a sprint almost to second tase. "He will be a greater player than Ownie Bush, the Detroit shortstop, in a couple of years."

This little $10,060 "Nemo," the name given him by Milwaukee fans, is a freak in a way. He throws equally well with either hand-this being a fact, not a fish story-and bats either right or left-handed. He is only 18 years old and his home is in Detroit. Leibold isn't ripe for the majors, but Duffy believes he will be in another year. The pee wee is playing the outfield because he is too good to sit on the bench and Duff doesn't want to break up his infield combination, but he belongs in the infield and that is where he will make a hit some day

"Nemo's" bunkle is Ray Schalk, "the mest promising young catcher in baseball," as they say in Milwaukee. Schalk is not 21 years and ranks with the best in the American Association. Mrs. Havenore, on the advice of Duffy, rewho obliged on the previous day, acted as wrecker. He was touched up tust not enough to worry him about his job. The big Spaniard looks like fused Charlie Murphy's offer of $5. 000 for the boy this spring.
