They are in good health and spirits and are full of anticipations of their arrival at home. They are in charge of Miner Bruce, who brought them down, and who, it will be remembered, is making an affort, with Sheldon Jackson, to have reindeer introduced into Alaska by the government. Mr. Bruce says that there is a good prospect that his reindeer scheme will be successful. All but one of the fourteen reindeer brought down from Alaska have died. The Best Brown Bread.

A Massachusetts matron sent the following to Good Housekeeping in response to a request for a recipe for the very best brown bread: Two cupfuls of granulated Indian meal, three-quarters cupful of rye, three-quarters cupful of flour, a teaspoonful of soda, a cupful of molasses, 2 cupfuls of milk, half teaspoonful of salt. Steam in a steamer about four hours. Three hours will do:

SUMMER FASHIONS.

HOUSE DRESSES AND COSTUMES FOR OUTDOOR SPORTS.

The Latest Skirt Is Six Yards Around the Bottom-How to Make It-All Kinds of Bodices and Jackets-Linen and Serge

The keynote of the season's mode which are now so fully developed is the revival of the styles of our grandmothrs, but history never does quite repeat self in fashions, so there is both a disbinction and a difference between the old time ideas and their modern treatment. Old fashioned silks, checked, striped and watered, and balloon sleeves, flaring skirts and lace capes have been practically seamless. Little jackets are sither made or simulated by the trimming. A pretty way to accomplish the effect is to full lace in at the front sea of the armholes an inch or so on t shoulder and under the arm and dra

Plain skirts and those which are nar rowly trimmed prevail over the more elaborate ones. The latest skirt is yards around the bottom if the mate rial is silk or any thin stuff. It is cu like a bell skirt in front and at the sides, while at the back there are three breadths of silk, with additional width given to each one at the bottom by sew ing on gores. These are sloped off quite narrow at the top and made to stand out in round folds from the waist by the means of a stiff interlining. To insure an even appearance around the edge the breadths have to be cut in scallops. Draperies are very chary about asserting their disadvantages, for they haven't many points of recommendation and are still in the minority. If one combination of color can be more fash ionable than another, it is black and

For tennis, yachting and outdoor Mainland as bribery of a constituency or the place of serge for these gowns, but sports nothing yet invented quite take the spirit of decoration has invaded this variety of dress. Colored and white linens are used for these costumes, and this season they are combined with serge in one suit. A white linen coat called "Garcon a Cafe" barely reaches to the waist. in summer as the more useful dresses for outdoor use. And a very dainty one, suitable for a young girl, is simply trimmed with ruffles of the same. A folded belt and two rosettes of ribbon are the only trimming, except the ruffles. This is a pretty style for white silk muslin made over a color.

THE CITY MARKETS.

No New Features to Report—Increased Busi' ness Expected With the Settlement of Tariffs.

There is very little to report regarding local trade this week. The imports and exports have been about equal, the former composed largely of California fruits. Business naring sairs and lace capes have been accepted with evident satisfaction. All kinds of bodices—except perhaps the one which is molded to the figure with many seams—are worn.

They are draped across, fulled into the belt, arranged with frills, wide spreading collars and revers, elaberately trimmed with lace, chiffon and spangled trimming, but they are in appearance practically seamless. Little jackets are
