This would be very unfortunate just at this time, for it would oblige the President to consider and decide what further steps are necessary to give effect to the intention of congress and protect the republic of Venezuela from public of Venezuela from encroachments upon her territory. It is felt in diplomatic circles here that the signs are certainly ominous of approaching trouble in the South, with British warships bound for Nicaragua to collect indemnity under duress, with a French war vessel bound for La Guayra, enezuela, to take the expelled French minister aboard, leaving a wide breach of diplomatic relations, and with other European nations threatening to follow Great Britain's example in coercing the small Central and South American republics into the payment of debts and indemnities.

Washington, March 20 — The prospect of serious complications which threatens the United States through probable European encroachment on Venezuela and Nicaragua, trouble in the chamber of deputies on Saturday, when all the reporters withdrew from the house as a protest against the official defence made by the minister of war of the officers who attacked and wrecked the United States. Great Britain's ultimatum to Nicaragua demanding an indemnity for the expulsion of Mr. Hatch, the British consular agent, from Bluefields and the report that a British warship is on her way much more valuable than United States was a second that American manufacturers get all ment is able to count only on the support of the police, the civil guard having declined serious phase of the difficulties growing out of the Bluefields affair, and as action by this government y this government may in-new construction of the Monroe doctrine it can be seen how slowly and carefully the President and his advisers, three hours the jury in the McInnes & Mcare obliged to feel their way to prevent any possibility of blunder, or to neglect any adpossibility of blunder, or to neglect any advantage that might weaken the general sponsorship which the United States government holds over the South American and Central American republics. In the Venezuelan affair the United States government flods itself opposed to such strong adver-saries as Great Britain, France, Germany, with Belgium as an incidental factor. The settlement of the claim of Great Britain to certain Venezulan territory is the main cause for alarm, and to this is added the prospect that Germany will send warships to collect a large amount of money guaranteed German contractors for the con struction of the Central Venezuelan railroad. France and Belgium have a common ground for action disturbing to the peace of he little South American republic; namely, the expulsion of the French and Belgian ninisters from that country. Both governnents have protested against the expulsion and France will send a naval vessel to take heir envoys home. The Monroe doctrine and its ramifications contain ample authority it is said, for the United States to display an active interest in the threatening attitud Great Britain and Germany, and while the probable action of France and Belgium does not seemingly come with the scope of the doctrine, it is understood to be the belief of this government that all States to secure their several ends, and such amalgamation is likely to beget a desire on the part of all to extend their dominions.
