

"I send you the price of my subscription to "The Voice of the Precious Blood," to fulfill a promise I had made on account of my youngest child, Marie Louise, seven years old. She had a disease of the eyes. For months, she had to stay in a dark room, with her eye bandaged, deprived of all the pleasures belonging to a child of her age. After having tried several remedies without success, I did not know what to do until a friend counseled me to adopt some pious practices in honor of the Precious Blood. I promised to subscribe to your Annals if she were cured. The Precious Blood has heard our prayers. for my child is cured, perfectly cured. All the redness has disappeared from her eyes, and she can see as well as she did before.

I am happy, to-day, in accomplishing my promise, and in my happiness, I cease not to repeat : Gratitude and love to the Precious Blood ! You may publish this fact and my name in your Annals, if you think it would help to make the Precious Blood known and loved."(1)

---

"My husband was prostrated with a grave malady, I promised, if his pains would cease, to publish the favor in "The Voice of the Precious Blood," I therefore, hasten to accomplish my promise, since my prayer was heard."

---

"A thousand thanks for your Novena. It was efficacious. Since last winter, I had continual sickness, and my husband, for his part, had to make numerous journeys to the United-States, having to find work. The same day that I asked for the Novena, I began to improve in my strength, and now I am able to work. At the end of the Novena, August 11th, my husband received the good news of a situation.

Thanks to the Precious Blood ! to good Saint Ann, and to Saint Antony of Padua !"

"My brother having had a stroke of paralysis, I conjured the Precious Blood to give him enough movement to resume his work at the office. I am happy to say that,

---

(1) We do not publish the names, except when the accounts are accompanied by the testimony of a Physician.