Clarke do	13	13	7½

William Dunbar, Esq., Dunbarton, has also paid £10 as his annual Exhibition to the Student nominated by the Committee, making the whole sum now received, £118 11s. 7d. The Rev. David Caw has intimated, that the Congregation of Paris intend to contribute £11 annually. Several of the preceding contributions, considering the times, must be regarded as liberal. It is simple justice to the people to say that wherever this scheme has been duly presented to them, they have shewn a disposition to support it. It is hoped that the Congregations which have not yet remitted will do so at their earliest convenience. If any inaccuracy is observed in any of the preceding items, it is respectfully requested that notice be given, when a correction will be made.

WINDSOR.

We understand the U. P. Congregation here, have called the Rev. Joseph Young, late of Haddington, Scotland, to be their Pastor.

NEWTON AND NEWCASTLE.

The Rev. W. C. Young, has resigned the pastoral charge of the U. P. Congregations in these places, and the resignation has been accepted by the Presbytery of Durham.

TORONTO.

A Soiree was held in the U. P. Church, Gould Street, on the Evening of Wednesday, 10th February. A number of ministers of several denominations, delivered admirable addresses on subjects of a serious and appropriate character. The attendance was large and apparently much interested in the exercises. On the following evening, a Soiree was given to the Sabbath Scholars and other young people, with their friends. A number of suitable addresses were then also delivered, and the audience seemed highly delighted. On both occasions there was excellent music by the Precentor and Choir, who had the kind co-operation of Mr. W. Reynolds, so distinguished as a musician; and the arrangements throughout, conducted by a Committee, reflected the highest credit on all concerned. The whole proceedings were marked by the most perfect decorum and propriety. The Sabbath School which is under the excellent superintendence of Mr. W. Kerr, one of the Elders, began about a year ago to contribute for Missionary purposes, and has raised upwards of £14. At this time £5 was given to the U. P. Mission at Calabar, and £4 10s to that in Trinidad.
