

METRO TORONTO WEEK IN HONG KONG
November 28 - December 4, 1993

From "God Save The Queen" and "Oh Canada" to "A Place To Stand - Ontariario," the Canadian International School sing their hearts out at the opening ceremony of Metro Toronto Week In Hong Kong at the Hong Kong Park Garden Plaza.

James So, Secretary for Recreation and Culture is joined in the traditional eye-dotting of the ceremonial lion by Alan Tonks, Metro Toronto Chairman and John Higginbotham, Commissioner for Canada.

Metro Toronto Week in Hong Kong

Local pop singer and native Torontonians Joyce Lee hits all the right notes for over a hundred Hong Kong and Canadian spectators.

Canadian rock musician/comedian Rick Scott is all smiles as he strums away on his dulcimer while performing his humorous tune, "Eh Canada".

Metro Toronto Chairman Alan Tonks discusses the economic prospects of Metro Toronto with business tycoon Stanley Ho at a reception held at the Hong Kong Hilton on November 29.

The first ever Metro Toronto Week in Hong Kong was staged in the territory from November 28 - December 4, 1993 to strengthen business partnerships, create new investment opportunities, encourage educational exchanges and celebrate the long-standing cultural and social ties shared between Metro Toronto and Hong Kong.

Nearly a hundred visitors from Metro Toronto, including Metro Toronto Alan Tonks, four municipal mayors and delegations in the areas of electronics, environmental technologies, building materials, architecture and education visited the territory.

In addition to a range of private business meetings and tours, a range of distinct Canadian cultural events were held during the week, including an opening ceremony, gala dinner, art exhibition and music recital. Amongst the Canadian artists featured were pop singer Joyce Lee, rock musician Rick Scott, painter Lok Yi-tong and classical pianist Alice Ho. ♦

Hong Kong-born Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officer Pepin Wong stands in honour of the Canadian soldiers who died in defence of Hong Kong during World War II at a wreath-laying ceremony at the Sai Wan Military Cemetery on December 1.

From left: Bruce Sinclair, Major of Etobicoke commemorates the Canadian soldiers who sacrificed their lives in defence of Hong Kong during World War II with Fergy Brown, Major of York, Alan Tonks, Metro Toronto Chairman, Michael Prue, Major of East York and Joyce Trimmer, Major of Scarborough at a wreath-laying ceremony on December 1 at Sai Wan Military Cemetery.