Going international the foxy way

The two-woman team of jewellery designers known as Foxy Originals from Toronto has been rapidly expanding into foreign markets with support from the TCS along the way. A Trade Commissioner in the regional office helped the company determine that the Japanese market offered great potential for its products. The TCS then helped Foxy Originals

The Canadian Trade Commissioner Service