HIS MAJESTY KING EDWARD VII.

THE SENATE.

THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

At Three o'clock, p.m., His Excellency the Governor General proceeded in state to the Senate Chamber and took his seat upon the Throne.

The senators being assembled, His Excellency was pleased to command the attendance of the House of Commons and, that House being present, His Excellency was pleased to open the Fourth Session of the Tenth Parliament of the Dominion of Canada with the following speech to both Houses:

The stream of immigrants coming to Canada continues to increase in volume, the year now drawing to a close showing a larger number than any preceding year, and it is gratifying to observe the many coming from the British Isles.

The Dominion has been blessed by a long series of prosperous years, and, though at the present moment its business is being restricted by the financial stringency which prevails throughout the world, I feel assured that this unfavourable condition will be temporary and that the illimitable resources of Canada and the world-wide recognition of them give us ample guarantee of continued material progress.
