dor of the Pokiok Falls and gorge will impress the imagination of the most stolid observer.

A novel feature of the social life of Fredericton is the existence of quite a number of riverside clubs or "Camps," such as Pine Bluff, Beech Knoll, Scoodewapscooksis, Kaskiseboo, Ravine Lodge, Old Orchard, The Birches, Porcupine, Bohemia, Sunny Crest, Cherry Bank, etc., where the stranger, if he is fortunate enough to have formed the acquaintance of one of the members, will be entertained in a most agreeable way. These camps are usually built of logs after the most approved woodland pattern, with a large open fireplace at one end; the bill of fare includes the inevitable pork and beans; the leading social spirits of the younger generation are sure to be well represented there; the scenic surroundings are delightful; and a day spent in one of these rustic retreats will long be remembered.
