Sterne, lost vs the taking of eight men of Warre, loaden with Munition, Victuals, and Provisions, for the supplie of the Souldiers in Brittaine: and although they were seaven or eight Leagues from the Shore, when our Vice-admirall began to fight with them, yet forthat the rest of our Fleete were some soure, some sine Leagues, and some more distant from them, when we beganne to give chase: the Spaniards recovered into the Harbour of Monge, before our Admirall could come up to give direction, yet well beaten, with loss of above two hundreth men, as they themselves consessed to me after.

And doubtlesse, if the winde had not over-blowne, and that to follow them, I was forced to shut all my lower ports, the ship I vng dertooke, doubtles had never endured to come to the Port; but being doubble Fli-boates, and all good of Sayle, they bare for their lines, and we what we could to follow and fetch them vp.

Six Richard Greenfield at Flores.

In this poynt, at the Ile of Flores, Sir Richard Greenfield got eternall honour and reputation of great valour, and of an experimented Souldier, chusing rather to sacrifice his life, and to passe all danger whatfoeuer, then to fayle in his Obligation, by gathering together those which had remained a shore in that place, though with the hazard of his ship and companie; And rather we ought to imbrace an honourable death, then to live with infamic and dishonour, by fayling in dutie; and I account that he, and his Country, got much honor in that occasion: for one ship, and of the second fort of her Maiesties, sustained the force of all the Fleete of Spaine, and gave them to understand, that they be impregnible, for having bought deerely the boording of her, divers and fundry times, and with many joyntly, and with a continual fight of 14. or 16. hours, at length leaving her without any Mast standing, and like a Logge in the Seas, shee made notwithstanding, a most honourable composition of life and libertie, for aboue two hundreth and fixtie men, as by the Pay-booke appeareth: which her Maiestie of her free grace commanded in recompence of their service, to be given to every one his fix moneths wages. All which may worthily be written in our Chronicles in letters of Gold, in memory for all Posterities, some to beware, and others by their example in the like occasions, to imitate the true valour of our Nation in these Ages.

Captaine /-

In point of Providence, which Captaine Vavisor in the foresight gaucalso good proofe of his valour, in casting about vpon the whole Fleete, notwithstanding the greatnesse and multitude of the Spanish Armado, to yeeld that succour which he was able; Although some doe say, and I consent with them, that the best valour
