

CONTENTS.

xxi

	PAGE
liberties .	507
. . .	508
. . .	508
. . .	509
. . .	510

Equality. Thee and Thou. The symbol of the hut. Persecution .	PAGE
Quakers buy West New Jersey	545
The concessions. The Quaker constitution	546
Relations with the red men	547
Taxation by the duke of York successfully resisted	548
Progress of the settlement	549
It elects its own governor. The purchase of East New Jersey	550
	551

CHAPTER XVI.

PENNSYLVANIA.

. . .	512
. . .	513
. . .	514
ports him .	515
ates .	516
. . .	517
. . .	518
. . .	519
. . .	520
. . .	521
. . .	522
ated .	523
. . .	524
. . .	524
. . .	525
land .	527

William Penn. The charter for Pennsylvania	552
His letter to its people	553
No monopoly permitted	554
The government. A free society of traders. Delaware	555
Life of William Penn. At Oxford. Driven from home	556
His travels in Europe; his return; becomes a Quaker. Imprisoned	557
In the Tower for non-conformity	558
Penn before court. Indicted and acquitted. In Newgate	559
He is released. Travels in Holland and Germany. Marries	560
Penn supports the election of Algernon Sidney to parliament	561
Contrast of the American law-givers, John Locke and William Penn	561
Penn at Newcastle; at Chester. Organization of the government	563
Penn and Lord Baltimore	564
Penn lays out Philadelphia. First legislation	565
The constitution and its provisions	566
Treaties with the Indians	567
Opinions of Peter of Russia and Frederic of Prussia. Witchcraft	568
Wonderful progress in 1683 and 1684. Penn's farewell	569
Boundary with Maryland. Mason and Dixon's line. Penn's fame	570
Quaker legislation	571
Indian alarm. Slavery.	572
German Friends declare against slavery. Death of George Fox	573

CHAPTER XVII.

DESPOTISM OF JAMES II. IN THE NORTHERN COLONIES.

ES.
. . .	528
. . .	529
. . .	530
. . .	531
. . .	532
. . .	533
. . .	534
sserted .	535
. . .	536
. . .	537
. . .	538
. . .	539
Common
. . .	540
. . .	541
. . .	542
. . .	543
. . .	544

Andros in New York. Claims Connecticut	574
Character of James II.	575
His colonial policy	576
New York. It demands self-government. East New Jersey	577
Cause of the emigration of Scottish Presbyterians	578
They resort to East New Jersey	580
The navigation acts	581
New York charter of franchises and privileges	582
The Five Nations	583
Their wars with the French	584