White it was true that it might not do much harm in England, he had been informed that articles from "John Bull' describing conditions in Canada in terms of contempt, were being reproduced in newspapers and other publications on the continent. It was just as well that the truth should be told in the house. Mr. Borden described the article as "a foul, contemptible libel."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed that the house owed a debt of gratitude to me member for Qu Appelle. The article did not perhaps deserve notice, because it was of such a character that it was not likely to carry weight, even in England. The malice of it was, however, so apparent that it was well that it should be stigmatized as false by the English-born members of parliament, whose very presence an the house was an evidence that they were welcomed in Canada.

TWO DEAD BABES FOUND Bodies Lie at Morgue and Coroner Will Investigate.

The bodies of two unknown infants were found in the city yesterday.

Wrapped in Wednesday's issue of a newspaper, the newly-born body of a male child was found in a lot at the rear- of 1806 West Queen-street by Policeman McCrath yesterday morning. The child could only have been dead a short time as, despite the low temperature, it was not frozen. No marks of violence were found.

Some boys playing with nockey sticks in the afternoon disclosed the contents of a newspaper parcel which lay at the north end of the Harbordstreet bridge. It was the body of a prematurely born infant. This, too, could only have been discovered a short time after it had been placed there, as the wrappings were not frozen. It was probably thrown over the bridge. Both bodies are at the morgue.

The chief coroner was notified, and is investigating.
