

convoys and railway stations, particularly the station at Roye where a great fire, followed by explosions, broke out.

During the month of May, 28 German airplanes were brought down by means of our anti-aircraft guns, three of them at night. Twenty other machines, damaged by our fire, were obliged to abandon their mission.

DESPERATE ASSAULTS WILL CONTINUE. With the French Army in France, June 10.—At the conclusion of the first 24 hours of the new battle between Montdidier and the Oise, the impression gained is that the powerful German smash has not brought the enemy the result he expected.

Extreme violence was the dominant note of the battle on the first day and desperate assaults with huge masses of troops seem likely to continue for at least some days.

When the masses of German infantry came over, the entente allied troops, spread lightly in the forward works, fell back coolly, fighting yard by yard, to the actual line of resistance.

Only at one point was the real French line forced to recede and that was in the neighborhood of Ressons-sur-Matz.

After the German infantry had started, four hours of the most intense fighting had brought them only partly across the allied advance zone. They were battered thoroughly by the allied artillery whose target was so plain that the enemy's losses must have been frightful, with little to compensate him for his sacrifices.

With the French Army in France, June 10.—Every foot the enemy advances now brings him farther into territory which is thoroughly well-known to the allies and prepared for defense.

The allied staffs are prepared to meet every eventuality and display the most perfect confidence in the outcome.

London, June 10.—"Through the night and morning, the battle raged along the new front of attack with unabated fury," says the Reuters correspondent at French headquarters, whose despatch was filed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

"On the extreme left the Village of Courcelles changed hands six times. On the extreme right Pleumont, almost in the first line, was still holding out, the little French garrison having beaten off a wave of German infantry. Mount Renaud is still ours.

"In the centre of the battlefield, by pouring in fresh battalions, the enemy succeeded in pushing deep into our line and are pressing southward between Cavilly and Thiescourt. The fighting was of the bloodiest character, hand-to-hand over the ruins of every village, hamlet and farm.

"The enemy has from eighteen to twenty divisions in his attacking line. Behind this line his reserves are ready to replace shattered divisions. We must reckon on a prolonged and desperate struggle, and may have to meet the shocks of Von Hindenburg's disposable reserves before the enemy breaks off.

"Further losses of ground need not discourage us. The enemy, instead of sweeping on victoriously yard by yard, paying the full price for every step. His main effort for the moment is towards the Oise, with the object of turning the salient we hold in his line, with its apex at Pont l'Evêque, on the Oise, which comprises Carlepoint and Ourscamp forest in an angle in the bend of the river."

Berlin, via London, June 10.—The German war office, in its official communication today, claims the capture of 3,000 prisoners and some guns in the new offensive in France. The text of the statement reads: "Artillery firing raved between Arras and Albert, south of the Somme, and on the Aves. Lively reconnoitering activity continued. Local engagements north of the Aisne, northwest of Chateau Thierry and in the neighborhood of Bligny brought in prisoners."

"Thirty-seven airplanes and six captive balloons were shot down yesterday."

AMERICANS TO BUILD BIG FLEET OF SHIPS. United States to Have Mercantile Marine of Twenty-Five Million Tons.

South Bend, Ind., June 10.—America in 1920 will have a merchant marine of 25,000,000 dead weight tons, Chairman Hurley of the shipping board, declared here tonight in an address giving the most complete statement of the nation's shipbuilding program which has yet been made public.

This great commerce fleet, Mr. Hurley said, the largest ever assembled in the history of the world, and involving the expenditure of more than $1,000,000,000 will link the United States to South and Central America by weekly steamer service which will enable the Latin-American countries to utilize their unlimited natural resources in the freest competition with other nations. It also will bridge the Pacific for the transportation of the products of Japan, Russia, China, Australia and the Orient, and will continue to promote America's trade with Europe.

And, with it all, he added, American ships "will serve humanity loyally and unselfishly on the same principles of liberty and justice which brought about the establishment of this republic."

Mr. Hurley said he and Director-General Schwab of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, expected the shipping output this year to exceed 3,000,000 dead weight tons, while next year the nation's tremendous new shipbuilding industry will be capable of turning out 12,518,000 dead weight tons.

SUCCESSFUL TO INJURIES. Montreal, June 10.—Mrs. Inga Venus, one of the occupants of the car that turned turtle near Ste. Rose last week, and who was badly injured in the accident, died in the Royal Victoria Hospital, here today.

ALL MONEY GAINED SHOULD BE USED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE WORLD, SAYS PRINCIPAL GANDIER.

Should Be Used for the Redemption of the World, Says Principal Gandier. MEN FOR MINISTRY. Professor Falconer of Halifax Presses an Appeal Before General Assembly.

London, Ont., June 10.—"Keep in mind that the money we are gaining today is blood money. It is the price of the blood of the men who are fighting and dying for us, and there is only one thing to do with it—use it for the redemption of the world. That is what blood is for."

In strong language Rev. Dr. Gandier, principal of Knox College, tonight addressed an appeal in behalf of the forward movement to the Presbyterian General Assembly.

"We have only to see the manner in which the nations are spending their money into the war in order to clearly see that we have a moral obligation in our attempt to evangelize the world," he said.

"How insignificant is the small hand of missionaries engaged in their mission fields throughout the world compared with the vast armies that have been thrown into this colossal struggle, how beggarly are our church budgets compared with the monstrous nations which are engaged in this war!"

When the church puts her energies into evangelizing work on a world scale, and when the nations are engaged in a war which is costing billions of lives, and today our missionaries are overworked and underpaid. Some action is needed to touch the hearts of those who are making wealth out of the blood and tears of the nations.

Wealth the Price of Blood. "A constant stream of wealth is pouring into the pockets of a few scientific depositors. Our banks are mounting by the hundreds of millions. Last year the banks deposited one hundred and eighty-eight million dollars in the United States bank deposits they already possessed. Do you realize that the wealth that is pouring into our country from the manufacture of munitions is the price of blood, and when the vast sums of money for our agricultural products are obtained because other people are starving? It is blood money and it is the price of blood."

Rev. Robert Anselm, minister of Hillhurst Church, Calgary, made a last appeal to the assembly. He said that he had an encouraging audience. He has a congregation capable of carrying a debt of $15,000, but the debt is $10,000. The loan company is threatening to foreclose, while a bank to which $14,000 has been advanced is threatening to foreclose. Meanwhile Rev. Dr. Reid of Montreal has agreed to lend $10,000 to the assembly for the opportunity to bid in the property at a mortgage sale. A committee will be appointed to see what assistance can be given.

Announcement was made in connection with the report of the Deacons' Training School, that Miss Margaret Grant, who has been in the hospital for several years, had resigned to take up Y. W. C. A. work in Halifax. She is to be succeeded by Miss Mary E. G. Stewart.

Applications from Rev. E. G. Stewart of Assiniboia and Rev. J. A. G. Stewart of Regina, who had been recommended by the assembly, were referred some days ago. It was held that the high educational standards required for the larger amount of special cases.

A visit of a few minutes by the Duke of Devonshire, who was in the afternoon warmly welcomed by the assembly, was made to the assembly, read by the moderator, Rev. Dr. Colin Fitcher. The duke replied briefly.

ALLES DEFENDING HEART OF FRANCE. No Element of Surprise Exists in Renewing of Offensive.

London, June 10.—There is no element of surprise in the renewal of the German offensive against the Allies in the Somme and Montdidier, was anticipated in the reviews of expert opinion recently. The primary objective of the heavy fighting are certainly insufficient to please the enemy high command. As to particulars, the French right, especially the villages of Merly, Belloy and St. Maor, and south of Ressons-sur-Matz, gained a footing in Marquise and the outskirts of Elin.

The line is vital, and in defending it the French are making a sacrifice. There is little space for retreat, and the French and British armies are being driven back. Both are still unbroken, and every confidence is felt that Poch's counter-attack will be successful. The French will make Paris a gigantic Verdun, and the town of Paris will be the objective of the German offensive. The fighting will be extended to the west, and the German offensive will be a series of attacks.

The French troops appear to be putting the German offensive to a severe test. The French are holding the line, and the German offensive is being repulsed. The French are making a sacrifice, and the German offensive is being repulsed.

HAMILTON NEWS. SECOURS NATIONAL DOES SPLENDID WORK. Gratifying Reports Presented at Annual Meeting in Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 10.—That the Secours National of Hamilton had done magnificent work during the past year was made plain by splendid reports presented at the annual meeting in the Royal Connaught Hotel this afternoon. Sir John Gibson, president, W. H. Lovring, secretary, read the financial report and addresses were delivered by Mrs. Lovring, and M. Bonnet, the celebrated French organist, now touring the Dominion.

The financial statement showed total receipts of $70,042.27, including $28,614.45 subscribed on "France Day" by Hamiltonians. Expenditures were $64,854.94, leaving a balance of $5,187.33. In addition goods of the value of $17,446.84 were donated, including materials valued at $11,981.94 were purchased by the Save a Dollar Fund of the Canadian Club.

INDISPENSABLE WORK BY IMPERIAL CABINET. London, June 10.—The Times, editorially, says that the second meeting of the imperial war cabinet is proof that the dominion members were very clear last year. The work done was indispensable. The more immediate matter for Sir Robert Borden and his colleagues is the relation of dominions to the United States, involving infinity and the intricate problems of co-operation, adjustment of military, economic, financial and other questions for the conference. The economic pact in self-defence between the allies, control of essential raw materials, development of co-operation between the empire, questions of naturalization, patents, double income tax, all of which insure members of the conference, they first act no bread of idleness while in London.

DUTCH DENOUNCE SINKING OF SHIP. Mad Sea Brute Has Done Awful Work, One Paper Declares. London, June 10.—The sinking of the Konings Regeent, has caused much indignation throughout Holland, and this feeling has found expression generally in the newspapers.

"The mad sea brute has done his awful work," says The Nieuwe Courant. "Unless the German Government accepts full responsibility for this crime it is in duty bound to name the individual who is responsible for the murder of those on board this neutral hospital ship."

The Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant thinks there is no room for doubt that the ship was torpedoed.

"This ship," says the newspaper, "was a paddle steamer, and the Germans insisted on the use of such ships because they could be easily distinguished at a distance by submarine commanders."

The newspaper adds that on the eve of the fresh negotiations over the exchange of prisoners the disaster has created an atmosphere of distrust which will not help them.

"The Germans deny that they sank the Konings Regeent, and say that an submarine could have known whether or not the British delegation was on board." The Nieuwe Amsterdamsche Courant says, "The Dutch, however, have had experience in France of the work of Mrs. Lovring in connection with the Secours National was highly praised."

The officers and committees were all re-elected.

To improve Gage Park. There is little chance of objection being taken in council to the arrangement made by Controller Wright and Ald. McQuesten on Saturday to have E. J. Davison, a well-known artist prepare a plan for the development of Gage Park.

Controller Wright's idea is to have a beautiful park, and the heavy work of Mrs. Lovring in connection with the Secours National was highly praised.

AGED MAN RUN DOWN. Orangeville, June 10.—David Watson, about eighty years of age, who was crossing Broadway near the postoffice, was struck and run over by a heavy truck driven by a Laurier man. The man's leg is broken, and the truck driver is being held for a trial.

FIVE-FOLD COTTON CROP. Brisbane, Australia, June 10.—The cotton growers up till May 25 delivered to the department of agriculture nearly five times the amount of cotton as in the corresponding period last year.

CONFERENCE ASKS MOTHERS' PENSIONS. Social Service Department Asks Provincial Government to Adopt Plan. DELEGATES CHOSEN. Law Asked to Compel Minors to Tell Where Cigarettes Are Bought.

Sir Joseph Flavelle is again a delegate to the general conference of the Methodist Church. He has been a delegate for many years. The idea of having "slates" was condemned in no light terms by the conference president, E. S. Caswell. Both city and rural delegates had slates prepared for which many had been lobbied.

There were about sixty nominations for the twenty-six appointments, and the balloting began about noon. It was continued all afternoon until 26 men had been elected.

The report of the social service and evangelism committee was presented containing an appeal to the provincial government for mothers' pensions, a recommendation of the leadership school to be held at Guelph, and an affirmation of the fact that it was the churches' duty to welcome returning soldiers. The report also contained another resolution noted the benefits of prohibition and urged continuing temperance instruction and keep organization so that if a referendum is taken in 1919, they may meet the organized liquor traffic and assure a victory.

Bishop McDowell of Washington gave an address on the need of a "When he had finished his exhortation, the bishop descended to the floor of conference, and knelt in prayer. He prayed for the delegates to make the ministry one of comfort to a suffering, war-worn, heart-broken people.

Dr. Deane, in moving the vote of thanks, told the bishops that many ministers had lost sons overseas, and that the churches should care that we hardly hope to see again."

Epworth League Rally. For the evening a special meeting of the young people's societies was held in the Elm Street Church, S. S. Shantz, president of the Toronto Conference Epworth Leagues, being in the chair. The report of the young people's work in the church was taken up, including leagues, junior and senior, mission, and Sunday school. The outstanding feature of all the reports was the optimistic spirit shown and the fact that every phase of the work was increasing, especially the missionary giving.

This past year the amount raised by the leagues of the Toronto conference was $20,000, which was for all purposes $30,716 was raised.

A program was given by 11 young women from Bathurst Street League, including a sketch, entitled "The Canada." In this part of Canada was taken by Miss Vivian Harmon and three duets sung during the sketch by Misses Edith Kendall and Mildred Brown.
