PRIZES PRESENTED FOR FALL FAIR

Cups and Shields of Exceptional Value Given Winning Competitors.

The 2nd annual fall fair prize presentation of silver cups, products and cash prizes was held last night in Belmont Hall, Alex. MacGregor, K.C., president, in the chair.

There were over 50 silver cups and shields in the poultry, pigeons and rabbits, fancy work, home baking, etc., of the aggregate value of $1000 and included nearly 1000 entries in the poultry section alone. The cups were arranged on two big tables on the platform and formed a splendid group of prizes of greater value perhaps than in any of the fairs of the province of Ontario, exception the Canadian exhibition.

President MacGregor's address outlined some of the work entailed by the various committees responsible for the success of the fair who had all worked with splendid co-operation, gladly donating their time to this big community effort.

As each winner presented himself he was greeted with cheers and many of them responded. The Pike and Sims cup for the best baby in the show was won by Roy Talbot and the proud father and mother received an ovation from the 500 people who were present.

Financial Statement

General Secretary Reg. A. Everett read a statement of the finances which showed receipts of over $3,500 and against $1750 last year and an attendance of nearly 20,000 visitors as against 1000 in 1918. The complete statement is not yet ready but this will be published later.

During the evening Mr. MacGregor was presented with a handsome walnut clock by friends of the fall fair and in returning thanks said how much he appreciated the co-operation and hearty response of all who had taken a part in this effort. He looked forward to a still greater result in the year 1920. Following is a list of the donors and winners of the silver cups.

ACCUSED OF BUYING VOTES WITH LIQUOR

$50,000,000 to the people of Ontario. Premier Hearst was not in favor of Hydro radials, but, said Mr. Dewar, "apparently I have brought about a change of heart. There is no placard 'Vote for Hydro radials,' signed W. H. Hearst." This man of decision had waited as he always does until the tide had turned.

Mr. Dewar repeated his statement that Sir Adam Beck must not have his hands tied, and must be given support.

Replied to Attacks.

Mr. Dewar replied to the editorial attacks upon him in the Star and called that in 1916 he had informed the attenuated editor that he did not want his support. The Star now follows Mr. Rowell's cue and accuses Premier Hearst as the prohibition leader. In assuming the position of opposition leader, Mr. Dewar said he had found among the papers left in the office by Mr. Rowell, Mr. Rowell's own instructions before going to England concerning the "publicity service." These were instructions both as to dailies and weeklies, as follows: "Articles dealing with subjects being covered in the Star. Have each despatch before it is sent out read either by Mr. Atkinson or Mr. Mackay, or by some one whom they select."

That was the key to the Star's dictatorship. He had, however, endeavored since becoming leader of the party to demonstrate that the democratic thought of Liberalism in Ontario is the dominating political thought. The Star was defeated in 1918. In 1919 it tries to destroy when it cannot dominate.

"I knew," continued Mr. Dewar, "that the Star had absorbed the Cochrane-Gooderham newspaper, The Times, when it bought its mailing lists. But it is not the Hearst Journal."

Mr. Dewar repeated that the papers do not report his temperance declarations.

Accusing Photographers.

Holding a bunch of photographs in his hand, Mr. Dewar took up the startling exposure of the evening. One which he offered to the press was a photograph of a child's head printed except as to dates and names: Toronto, Oct. 2.

To the Ontario Government Dispensary, 23 Front Street East, Mr. Dewar, Mr. S. Godfrey, have two bottles of whiskey for the Kiddush purposes during the evening festival. (Signed) B. Stone, J. Weinreb, Rabbi. Included was a photograph of an original analysis, as follows: Thomas Heys & Sons, Assay and analytical chemists. Toronto, Oct. 3, 1919.

Mr. H. H. Dewar said: "We hereby certify that we have made a determination of alcohol in wine received from you marked 'whiskey,' a cordial made from cherries, imported by S. L. Nathanson, Montreal. The sample received in quart bottle with original seal unbroken. Absolute alcohol (by volume), 53.4 per cent. Equal to proof spirit, 65.4.

Thomas Heys & Sons, Charles H. Heys.

There were several photographs of the crowds of Jews thronging round the government dispensary, 23 Front Street East, when they had the photographs and others watching. "We have been told that I am not an advocate of prohibition and am not directly or indirectly connected with it. I have said that on many platforms. I find the people to whom I speak seem to understand my plain speaking, but sometimes it does not reach their minds. The more devious channels of the press. "We not only look for straight issues, but we look for straight administration of the law. Every man in the province of Ontario to this man who is hailed as prohibition leader to see that so far as this law is concerned, there shall be no stretching of the law. A Sacramental Wine.

"During the past week an interpretation has been placed upon the act. one that starts the very conscience of the community. Only on Saturday last it was announced in the synagogues in Southwest Toronto that so far as a certain liquor was concerned it would be served to those Jews who desired it, and they would get the document that entitled them to get it from the vendors. It was scarcely understood what was meant. But let me go a little ahead of my story and tell you what on Monday morning The Globe, appearing to know the facts, published an article in which attention was called to the fact that there was going to be a serious issue of liquor, not in the evening The Evening Star rose to the occasion. (Laughter.) This article tells us that the license department declared that the privileges were never abused by the Jews. The long and short of the resolution of the license department was that under the license of liquor to our Jewish friends has been permitted under certain conditions and so far there have been no complaints about wine issued for religious purposes. That was on Monday afternoon. And the resolution of the license board recites that the motion was that representations have been made by the chief rabbi of the Jewish religion in Toronto that it is necessary that a suitable wine should be provided for the use of the Jewish people and it appearing desirable that such application be granted, therefore, be it resolved that B. Stone, 582 Euclid Avenue, be appointed as special vendor under the provisions of section 6A, Ontario temperance act, for the period commencing on October 1st, 1919, it being understood that such wine was obtained from the government vendor at Toronto.

"Section 6a of the statute provides that the board of license commissioners may appoint vendors or such other persons for the purpose of importing into the province wine for use in divine service—clearly a sacramental wine.

Thousands of Bottles.

"But what has happened? Under the force of this regulation there has been authority given to the chief Conservative organizer amongst the Jews in Southwest Toronto for the purpose of spending him special vendor to import liquor by the thousand bottles from Montreal into Toronto. B. Stone is, jointly with the chief rabbi, the chief Conservative organizer of this city, the three chief Conservative representatives of the Jewish people in this city. Under this authority it is according to the Jewish authorities in the Synagogue in the Zionist institute, on Beverley street, on Sunday afternoon, issued cards by the hundred to those who appeared, so that they might obtain what was said to be wine for religious service.

"Now, mark the condition of things. On the 25th Sept. there was a great Jewish feast and a solemn occasion marked by the Jewish people. Later during the week before the day of atonement there was some excuse so far as sacraments were concerned. But up to the eve of the election this authority is given to obtain strong liquor in the city of Toronto under the guise of a religious performance with authority to import liquor from the 7th until the 15th of the month. When you consider the circumstances you will see that so far as this government concern is concerned it is perfectly willing to sacrifice its regard for temperance and everything else by buying the sacramental wine which it can save itself from the date it sees in the riding of Southwest Toronto.

Doctor for Occasion

"And what were the orders that were issued by this gentleman who was turned for the occasion into Dr. Stone. I apologize to the medical friends in the audience. This gentleman during the war was a professor so far as the science of clothing was concerned. What is Vishnikoff's concern? What I have seen of it and smelt of it it appears to be cherry brandy. And what do you think it is? The bearer is to get two bottles for the Kiddush purposes during the festival Kiddush was defined by Mr. Dewar according to the Jewish encyclopaedia as a domestic festival. It is the best that may be pronounced upon bread during the evening meal.

"Did the license board understand what it is doing? Apparently not, because whatever precautionary measures were taken the liquor was imported from the city of Montreal and on Monday morning there were many at the vendor's store and Mr. Stone had to go down and explain that the liquor he had not yet arrived. On Tuesday morning there was a still larger crowd until just before the opening of the store, because the documents had already been issued by the hundred and have already been issued by the hundred. "On the Monday morning shortly before the hour of 10 o'clock the chief rabbi, Jacobus, accompanied by his Conservative doctor and organizer, appeared at the store, doubtless because of alarm from the article in The Globe. Very shortly after that hour Mr. J. D. R. tells the commission, was upon the spot, doubtless to see what his friend, George Gooderham, desired them to get. And so the merry game went on during the day and by the hour of noon over one thousand bottles of whiskey had been issued. I had taken the precautionary measure that in my knowledge of the matter to see that there were men there to see exactly what was taking place. I have the photographs of some of the men who had a record of exactly what took place. That went on all day Monday until the supplies were exhausted. It went on until the men whose duty it was to look put up, and under the circumstances—whether it is because of a lack of supply or because of what has happened—when they had the photographs and others watching, no further liquor has been served.

"Further, I have laid before you facts and there can be no possible contradiction. I have only given you an outline of what the evidence in my possession is. There has been a deliberate attempt to drive a coach and four thru the law by the license commissioners and the license inspector in Hamilton East, refusing to oppose the soldier candidate, Lester, Sam Leaders, in that riding. One delegate, George Robertson, advised against opposing Walter Rollo, Labor candidate, saying that Rollo would be more likely to support Dewar than Hearst, if elected.

"In the resolution to refrain from opposing the soldier candidate in East Hamilton, it was pointed out that it was necessary for the province to assume its fair share in providing for returned soldiers, that the provincial government should render every assistance in providing new ways and means of livelihood, and that adequate legislation towards vocational training and re-establishment in civil life should be given. Thus it was advised that a large and substantial representation of the soldier candidates should be elected to the legislature of Ontario.

"I call upon Sir William Hearst to dismiss these three license commissioners, Flavell, Dingman and Ayscarr, or accept full responsibility day after tomorrow for what they have done. If Sir Wm. Hearst is a prohibitionist he will not do this. If he is not, but will see that the officials who perpetrated this act are put out of office.

"We had a crown attorney in the city of Toronto who was not afraid to do his duty without favor or affection. We have a crown attorney today, I ask him, independently of what his masters may do, independent of the union Hearst may dictate, to prosecute those who have perpetrated this outrageous fraud."

TO ACT FOR PREMIER.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—During the absence of Sir Robert Borden from Ottawa, J. E. Bennett, Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council, will be acting secretary of state for external affairs.

LANDLADY CHASES LODGER.

Frants Nilson, no address, was arrested by Detective Tuft yesterday charged with the theft of a quantity of clothing from a rooming house on Ann street. The circumstances leading up to Nilson's arrest were as follows: The boarding house notices Nilson coming down the stairs swollen almost twice his usual size from the amount of clothing which he was carrying thru the streets of Toronto, while other respectable men are arrested and fined $200.

"The man who carried the bottle is cherry brandy. Let me tell you what is more so. Careless are they as to what is more so."

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Walter Read, Victoria street, and Alexander Holland, East Dundas street, were arrested by Detectives Archibald, and a freight train was charged respectively with theft and receiving. According to the police, Read, who had been in the employ of the James Lamborn Company, wholesale grocers, had stolen 15 bags of hay and Holland had received them.

MEDAL COMES AT LAST.

Hamilton, Oct. 8.—A long overdue service medal has arrived here for John Burke, G.A.C., 17 Simcoe street. Mr. Burke, who is 80 years of age, fought in the Fenian raid.

PLANK INJURES WOMAN.

Mrs. Reid, Brighton avenue, received severe injuries to her wrist and hand when a plank which was being raised to the roof of the Canadian National building on East Adelaide street slipped from the haul rope and fell to the sidewalk. The plank was being hauled to the top to be used in a scaffolding for painting the building by two of the T. Eaton Company painters. Mrs. Reid was taken first to a doctor and then taken home in an Eaton motor car.
