He lost his life for want of spectacles. On a November morning in 1632 he mistook enemy couldn't see better. Modern research has discovered that he was a myope (suffering from near-a myope was, or that he was one.

It would have done him no glasses were still unknown, except in China. Everything that has

TRIPPING LEADS TO ARREST OF THUGS WHO HELD UP AUTO

Victim of Outrage Recognizes Men On Train and Notifies Police.

WINDSOR, July 12.—Tripping over the foot of a dozing passenger on a train coming into Windsor from London resulted in the arrest of the two carless pedestrians, who were identified by the sleeping man as hold-up men who had robbed him and two friends on Wednesday of last week, many miles from where they were captured, the highwaymen having got in their work at New Hudson, near Brighton, Mich.

Help Up Party.
Two automobile thugs stopped William Andre, 1309 Somerville avenue, Detroit, general manager of the Detroit Commission Company and two companions, while they were motoring. Andre, who was driving, was held up. He was taken to a rooming house, where he was kept for several days. He was then released, but he was not allowed to leave the city. He was then taken to a rooming house, where he was kept for several days. He was then released, but he was not allowed to leave the city.

Arrested in Windsor.
Two days later Andre went to Toronto, and was returning home from a business trip when he was awakened by the snoring of a man who was sitting next to him. He looked at the man and recognized him as one of the men who had robbed him. He called the police and they came to the train. They arrested the two men and took them to the police station.

At The Theaters
AT THE ALLEN.
Packed with thrills from beginning to end is "The Girl of the Sea," being shown at Allen's for the first time of this week. Leagues beneath the sea a diver gropes for lost treasure. He finds jewels. He is brought to the surface, but a giant octopus or "sea devil" grasps him, and he is powerless. A beautiful eyed maiden of the island who tells where the sunken treasure lies, dives to almost unfathomable depths and attracts the attention of the octopus, the man in his grasp may escape. This is only one of the thrilling scenes portrayed in the film.
