We are banded together as a body of Catholic women to assist the poor and needy, to welcome and render aid if necessary to the Catholic immigrant, and to assist in any cause that appeals to us under philanthropic work.

That our aims and objects have been lived up to is proved by our past record, and the claim that we are making progress, in accordance with the spirit of the age is fully substantiated, I think, by the condensed summary of one year's of the age is fully substantiated, I think, by the condensed summary of one year's work included in this report.

In submitting a report before the Local Council of Women last spring expression was given to the thought that greater and better work could be accomplished by organizations if each individual member assumed a deeper sense of personal responsibility attached to her membership.

Today St. Monica's Society calls to each and every one, either as old or new members, to pledge herself to renewed vigor and enthusiasm. A new page in the annals of our history is being opened, and each member must feel that her co-operation is urgently required to make the year 1916-17 the most successful.

Secretary's Detail Work

Eight general meetings were held and minutes recorded. Notices for five meetings were called through the medium of the daily papers, and three were called by cards, making a total of 375 post cards written.

As self-sacrifice is the keynote to success in the home life in like manner it is the principle upon which depends the depth and breadth of woman's work outside the home circle. We want our work to bear the character impress of true Catholic womanhood, unity and sincerity of purpose, unselfish devotion to duty and loyal co-operation in the fulfil-
