ENDING OF STRIKE RESTORES BOOKINGS

Passenger Business Among First to Get Favorable Rebound

NEW YORK, May 14-"Cancellation of cancellations" was the order of the day in the steamship passenger business following receipt of cable ad-vices early Wednesday announcing the palling off of the British general strike. The spreading of the British general strike. The spreading of the report of the end of the strike brought an immediate response to the trans-Atlantic lines in the form of renewals of cancelled reservations, indicating the re-establishment of public confidence in conditions abroad.

Proad.

P. V. G. Mitchell, vice-president of the I. M. M., stated that innumerable telegrams and telephone calls have been received requesting accommodations on the Majestic, of the White Star Line, which reached New York Tuesday. In which reached New York Tuesday. In one instance, he said, a "cancellation of a cancellation" reached the steamship company by wire before the letter of original cancellation was received.

The feeling in marine circles as a result of the strike news was generally more optimistic not only in the passenger business but in freight circles as well.
