THE STORY OF A BRASS RING

He ate his lunch in a hurry.

The merry-go-round in Happy Go Lucky Park was a jolly one. Nick made the music go, and a whistle went "toot-toot," and Mister Zip, the fairy man, turned a handle that started the merry-go-round. Nancy took tickets sometimes, and sometimes she held the babies so they couldn't fall off and get hurt.

And, although the animals on the merry-go-round looked as fierce as they could be, they were only made of wood and couldn't hurt you any more than a fly.

Besides, there was the brass ring. If you got the brass ring when you were whizzing past, instead of a black one, that gave you a free ride.

Of course, everybody tried as hard as ever they could to get the brass ring, you may be sure.

One day Cutie Cottontail got a job weeding a garden and, although they

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisulphate of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

with a ring in the end, he held out his hand and got one. He got so many iron rings that both his ears were full. For every time he got a ring he sold it over an ear.

And then didn't he get the brass one? "Hooley!" he shouted, louder than ever. "I'll slip this one in my pocket and take it home!" Cutie was going to get into a peck of trouble.

UNDERTAKER SUES CITY OF TORONTO

Claims Health Board Responsible for His Taking Smallpox.

Toronto, July 24.—An undertaker is suing the Toronto Board of Health because his complexion has been ruined.

This is the curious result of a claim made by Reginald Roy Moore, undertaker, who claims that the Board of Health is responsible for his attack of smallpox last February because he was not warned.

Mr. Moore, who is badly disfigured, said yesterday that his illness, in his opinion, was due to gross carelessness on the part of the Board of Health. Since his disfigurement, he says that he is unable to obtain lucrative orders in his profession.

Mr. Moore has issued a writ at Osgood Hall claiming unpaid damages against the Board of Health.

Mr. Moore added that two weeks ago the husband of the woman he had embalmed and whom he claims to have

QUEENS AUDITOR IS DISMISSED

Gagetown, N.B., July 24.—Ingelwood Flower, Central Cambridge, who has been auditor of the accounts of Queens county for the last six or seven years, was today relieved of his duties by the Queens county councilors. This action has been taken by them on account of the alleged careless manner in which Mr. Flower audited the county books, and the mistakes which have been carried through year after year. The last audit Mr. Flower made was in January and the councilors are thinking of refusing to pay him his salary for 1924.

F. Lansdowne Belyea, of the firm of Belyea and McNiece, St. John, has been engaged to go over the books and audit them, and some of the councilors recommend that Mr. Flower be compelled to pay the expenses of Mr. Belyea's audit.

FABLES ON HEALTH

Baby's First Tooth

The first tooth! It's a tradition in every family possessing a baby. And it was thus in the Mann family. Mr. Mann staged a veritable celebration at the office. Teeth buds begin to form in the third month of life before birth. Thus, the diet of the mother has a great deal to do with the later development of the teeth. The mother should have liberal amounts of milk, green-leafed vegetables and fruit containing mineral salts, as well as vitamin-bearing foods.

During the first months of life feeding affects the teeth. Breast-fed babies most invariably have better teeth than those artificially fed. About the fifth or sixth month the first tooth should begin to appear.

The dangers of teething have been greatly exaggerated by mothers. While there is likely to be a little feverishness and discomfort, and while the baby may seem to gain no weight, there is little cause for alarm.

A soft bit of cloth for cotton should be used to keep the teeth clean until well grown and after that regular applications with a brush.

Also, a child should be given mineral salt-bearing foods, which help develop bone as well as the teeth. Regular visits to the dentist are essential as soon as the child is sufficiently old.
