GERMANY'S MURDER GANG

(Berlin Correspondence, Manchester Guardian.)

It is now possible to make some estimate of the forces engaged in the latest civil war between the Republic on the one hand and the monarchist movement on the other. The monarchist movement, the counter-revolution, and the militarist reaction are practically identical, for the overthrow of the Republican government and the restoration of the Monarchy are only to be the first step towards a Germany sufficiently militarized to wage a war of revenge against the Entente, or at least against France.

The whole of Germany organized labor is Republican. Its only weapon is the general strike, which is probably sufficient to destroy any attempt to overthrow the government. But it is a defensive weapon, and is practically helpless against preparations for an overthrow and against the monarchist agitation. All the landed gentry and the bigger farmers are monarchist. Of the middle class probably the majority are monarchist, although most of them are practically indolent and inert. The officers of the Reichswehr, the regular army of 100,000 men, are nearly all monarchist, most of them fanatically so. The N.C.O.'s are predominantly monarchist. The rank and file are either monarchist or indifferent. They would probably follow their officers in a civil war.

The Security Police, 150,000 strong, are a semi-military force. They are not mobilizable, and are not under the Ministry of War, but under the Ministry of Interior. They have no general staff, no transport, and no artillery. But they have rifles and machine guns, and are drilled like soldiers. Their officers are mainly monarchists, and so are many of the rank and file. Others of the rank and file are indifferent, others Republican, and some even Socialist.

Nearly all the university professors, school-teachers, and university students are monarchist. The professional classes are mainly monarchist. Nearly all higher officials, lawyers, judges, and magistrates are reactionary, and that is why reactionary offenders usually escape unpunished. The lower officials are predominantly Republican. Heavy industry is reactionary, though not necessary monarchist.

The strongholds of the monarchist movement are Pomerania, East Prussia, and Bavaria. In Pomerania and East Prussia it is united and resolute enough to crush all opposition within its own frontiers. It is conceivable that it could seriously menace Berlin by stopping the deliveries of grain and dairy produce.

The Danger at Munich. It is possible but unlikely that the Monarchy will be proclaimed in Bavaria, although it could not last for more than a few days. Perhaps organized labor in Munich alone would be strong enough to overthrow it. Franconia and Bavaria north of the Danube would certainly not accept it, so a monarchic restoration in Munich would mean the isolation of Bavaria south of the Danube, a region incapable of independent existence, being dependent on the Ruhr for coal and on East Elbia for grain. Although the Bavarian monarchist movement is utterly futile, it is a danger in so far as it harbors the cliques of agitators and assassins who are plotting against the lives of the ablest and most respected leaders of the German Republic.

The backbone of the active monarchist movement are the secret military organizations which exist all over the country. The most powerful of these is the "Organisation Consul." The police have now arrested nearly a hundred of its members. It is a secret society, with hidden depots of arms and ammunition, and with its own service of spies and agents. Many of its most active members live in Salzburg, in the Tyrol, in Carinthia and in the Bavarian Alps. Some of them are officials in the Bavarian frontier-control, so that members of the society as well as arms and ammunition can pass freely in and out of German territory. A section of the organization exists in Bavaria disguised as "The Bavarian Wood Utilization Company, Limited," which does a certain amount of business in timber so as to conceal its real character. Schulz and Tilsen, the murderers of Ersberger, belonged to this gang. They returned to Munich after the crime and then fled to

THE MUSKOKA LAKES.
The Muskoka region of the "Highlands of Ontario" was for centuries the chosen hunting ground of the Hurons. It was the red man who gave the musical name Muskoka (Signifying "clear sky") to this land which held supremacy over all others in his affections, and he christened the islands, promontories, mountains, sea level—gives splendid at-sive rocks, lakes and rivers in a manner that showed his appreciation of the beauties of his forest home. No happier appellation than "clear sky" could have been adopted, as the altitude of the region—one thousand feet atmospheric conditions. Muskoka spreads its manifold charms to blue skies flecked with soft, white clouds. It is a delectable land, brilliant with rich coloring, its air pungent with the fragrance of the pines, its waters cool and clear; moreover, a land of many pleasures, offering a wide variety of health-giving, open-air sports and pastimes suited to all ages. There are about 100 hotels in the district that cater to those of modest taste as well as those who are most fastidious. The Canadian National Grand Trunk Railway has issued a handsomely illustrated booklet with list of hotels and which can be had free on application to H. R. Charlton, General Advertising Agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, P.Q.

OPERATORS OFFER TO ACCEPT AWARD
Calgary, Alta.—The coal miners' dispute in District 18, bore a more cheerful aspect owing to an offer of the Western Canada Coal Operators after a further conference with Premier Greenfield, agreeing to accept the majority report of the Knowles conciliation board.

The offer now made by the operators is practically a reduction of 25 per cent. off the old agreement rates. It is stated unofficially that Premier Greenfield was informed by the miners' representatives that they would accept a cut of 20 per cent.

THE KAWARTHA LAKES
The Kawartha Lakes are among the most popular of Ontario's summer playgrounds. The region was long a favored one with the Indians who gave it its musical name, signifying "Bright Waters and Happy Lands." The Kawartha chain comprises Lakes Katchewanooka, Clear, Stoney, Buckhorn, Chemong, Pigeon, Bald, Starbuck, Cameron and Balsam, and they are six hundred feet above the level of Lake Ontario. Every form of outdoor recreation may be indulged in, there being unlimited opportunities for sailing, canoeing and motor-boating, for bathing and for fishing. Bass, mackinon and salmon trout are caught in the large lakes, while there is good fishing for speckled trout in the smaller lakes in the district. The region is easy of access, has good hotel accommodation and is within 125 miles of Toronto on the Grand Trunk Railway System. Free illustrated booklet with map and list of hotels sent on request. Apply to H. R. Charlton, General Advertising Agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, P.Q.

Have You any Money in the Bank?
THERE is an old-fashioned theory which some people still cling to—that a bank wants no dealings with them unless they have "lots of money." Such is not the case with this bank; you will be welcomed whether you have $1 or $1,000 to deposit. Open an account with what you feel you can spare now and add to it regularly as "pay day" comes around. It is a comforting feeling to know that you have several hundred dollars put away safely in the bank.
