I. O. FORESTERS.

audience laughed again, and Rev. Mr. Parker accepted the compliment to him with due modesty.

The supreme chief ranger entered at once upon a history of the independent Order of Foresters, told the story of its growth, showed how the prediction that it could not last more than six or seven years had been recast and again and again proven false by the logic of facts. Today the order is paying out $200 an hour to the widows and orphans of Foresters, and yet, as Mayor Murchie had said, it was but in its infancy. An Englishman, a Scotchman and an Irishman were once discussing their nationality. The Englishman thought if he were to be anything else he would like to be a Scotchman, and the Scotchman paid a like compliment to the Englishman. "And now," said they to the Irishman, "if you were not an Irishman what would you be?"

"Faith," quoth he, "if I were not an Irishman I'd be ashamed of myself."

When the laughter subsided the supreme chief said he hoped the time was not far distant when every man who was eligible, and not a Forester, would be ashamed of himself. The order now has nearly 6000 courts in Canada, United States, United Kingdom, Denmark, Scandinavia, Belgium, France, India and Australia. The speaker dwelt on what the extension of the order had done to advertise Canada abroad, and to develop the feeling of fraternity among peoples of different countries. It would be very difficult, for example, for the politicians to provoke war between the United States and Canada, for the Foresters would veto it by nursing good-fellowship and fraternal feeling. The chief repeated what he had stated in high court about the unqualified endorsement of the order by British actuaries and insurance journals, and then entered upon a clear and luminous exposition of the medicinal and insurance, sick and funeral, old and permanent disability and pension benefits to members of the order. He pointed out that not one dollar of the funds could be paid out without the joint check of the three chief executive officers, thus guaranteeing the order against the misuse of any of its funds. The chief was at work in the Temple Building, Toronto, every day, checking every item. In the order today are preachers, judges, clergymen, doctors, lawyers, and men of the highest rank in the professions. On Aug. 1st, 1901, the surplus was $4,866,731. On Aug. 1st, 1902, it was $5,877,598, an increase in the year of $911,000.

In conclusion the chief said the order was strong and prosperous, numerically and financially, and multiplying its deeds of benevolence. "Come in," he said, "and help us in the great work." The audience, which had listened with deep attention again heartily applauded the speaker.

The last number on the programme was a reading by F. W. Hinkley, a rising young lawyer of Calais, who has made a brilliant record as a student and has also fine gifts as a dramatic reader. He was compelled to respond to an enthusiastic encore.

The meeting closed with the national anthem, with band accompaniment. A male quartette was one of the musical features of the evening.

WEDNESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.
ST. STEPHEN, Aug. 6.—The first matter of interest taken up this morning was a recommendation from a committee of which J. S. Fleming was the chairman, that to awaken greater interest in the order district deputies be appointed throughout the province, each to visit four to six courts and to be under the control of the high chief ranger, all matters relating to remuneration to be settled by the high executive. D. H. Melvin objected to the proposal on the ground of expense. D.

G. Lingley replied that the expense would be small. Mr. Mercer and Rev. Mr. James supported the change on the ground that it would be of great advantage to the courts. F. W. Emmerson, whose annual report had suggested the appointment of district deputies, spoke strongly in its favor. He had in 1889 recommended a high court inspector, and that had worked well until 1899, when the work of organizing was practically taken over by the supreme court. The proposed change would not cost over $500 a year, or about $300 more than is now expended by the high executive. The plan had worked out admirably in the high court of New York and was heartily approved by the supreme chief. In New York there was a district deputy for each five courts. One for ten had been tried but was not satisfactory. By having a man who would make it his business to visit the courts and stimulate the members to greater efforts the order would be greatly benefited.

The report was adopted. J. V. Russell submitted the report of the finance committee which was adopted.

J. T. Hawke discussed the constitution of the press committee, taking the ground that it should be appointed by the high executive in advance of the meeting, so that arrangements for providing the different papers with reports could be made.

Rev. B. H. Thomas submitted the report on the state of the order. It referred to the phenomenal growth of the order, which received 20,709 members in the last year, 513 being the increase in New Brunswick; it noted the fact that the mortality claims paid in N. B. were $16,263.76 less than in the previous year; spoke of the growing surplus; recommended that the high court consider the question of a memorial or decoration day; paid a high tribute to the wise leadership of H. C. R. Chapman, and expressed deep regret at the death of the late Inspector Kinghorn.

The report was adopted and the clause relating to decoration day referred to the high standing committee. A. W. Ebbett reported for the committee on constitution and laws, opposing John A. Lindsay's motion that future meetings of the high court be held either in St. John, Moncton or Fredericton. Mr. Lindsay and John T. Hawke vigorously supported the former's motion, on the ground of greater convenience and less expense. Rev. Mr. James favored St. John only. Mr. Cockburn, of St. Andrews, supported the report of the committee. Incidentally he paid a high compliment to the border hotels and observed casually that St. Andrews had one hotel which would accommodate 300 guests.

The committee's report was adopted, as was also their recommendation that all delegates, officers and past executive officers attending the next high court get mileage of four cents one way.

The recommendation of the high court that the grand cross of the Legion of Honor be conferred on A. W. Macrae for his services to Foresters, and Mr. Macrae's eulogy on the late William Kinghorn were interesting features of the session. It was resolved to prepare suitable resolutions of condolence and devote a memorial page in the annual high court report to the late Mr. Kinghorn.

When the question of next year's place of meeting came up, the honors went to John T. Hawke, Albert Grand Falls, Fredericton and St. John were nominated, but Mr. Hawke pointed out that Court Moncton, the banner court (having five representatives at the high court) and the mother court of the order in this province would next June celebrate its twentieth anniversary and he wanted the high court to meet in that town. His view prevailed and was finally made unanimous. The officers were elected and installed.

ed as stated in yesterday's papers and the usual votes of thanks were passed.

GENERAL NOTES.

There was a ripple of applause when the chief ranger read a telegram from Clarence Scott, past high chief ranger of Maine, who had attended the N. B. high court two years ago.

A large number of delegates went down to St. Andrews on an excursion in the afternoon on the steamer Aurora, but rain greatly interfered with their pleasure. The excursion was arranged by Court Scodice of St. Stephen, whose members had made excellent arrangements for the accommodation of the high court. The Masonic hall, where the meetings were held is a fine, large room, luxuriously furnished.

J. D. Chipman and Collector Graham were in attendance as delegates from Court Scodice.

There were nearly two hundred delegates present this year. All could not find room at St. Stephen hotels, but a group that went to the Exchange in Calais found excellent accommodation. The border people, and especially those of St. Stephen, extended warm hospitality to the visitors. The latter town was crowded, as the Summer School of Science is still in session.

The new high court officers this year are: D. G. Lingley of St. John, H. V. C. R.; Dr. C. T. Purdy of Moncton, H. Physician, and P. Michael of Edmundston, H. Court. In nominating Mr. Michael who is a lawyer, J. T. Hawke noted the fact that he was an Acadian, and represented an important section of the people not largely represented as yet in the order.

Dr. B. M. Mullin, who was unanimously elected high chief ranger, was before a member of the high standing committee. The appointed officers are of course new.

The Companions, who are yet rather new to high court work, took no active part in the debates, but were faithful in attendance at the sessions, and when the officers were being elected favored the court with some music.

The sessions were almost monotonously harmonious this year, no subject of sharp controversy being introduced. The high standing committee had their headquarters at the Windsor hotel.

The Maple Leaf band came down to the railway station in a pouring rain to serenade the departing Foresters, and there was general cheering as the train pulled out. The visitors were charmed with the hospitality of the people of St. Stephen.

Bicyclists and all athletes depend on BENTLEY'S Liniment to keep their joints limber and muscles in trim.

LABOR MATTERS.

D. J. O'Donoghue, the fair wages officer of the dominion department of labor, arrived yesterday from Ottawa. The object of Mr. O'Donoghue's visit is to fix the wages to be paid the men and the hire allowed the teams employed by the I. C. R. at Gilbert's Island. Mr. O'Donoghue was recently at Quebec arranging the matter of the wages of the men employed on railway work being carried on in that city. Mr. O'Donoghue will visit Gilbert's Island today.

A Sun reporter had a chat with him at the New Victoria last night. Mr. O'Donoghue said there were matters occurring here on which his opinion would probably be asked by the parties interested. Prominent laboring men in the city would, he understood, seek his opinion and advice before his departure from St. John.

At a committee meeting of St. John Preceptory in Masonic Hall last evening it was decided to have a steamboat excursion on the river on Friday, the 15th inst., by steamer May Queen, leaving at 2.30 p. m.

The Alerts Get New Men.
The Alerts management received a telegram last evening from W. S. Barker, who is on a visit to the United States and who had been requested to hunt a couple of good players, that he had secured big George Lovelin of Wesleyan University to pitch Saturday's game for the Alerts against the Roses, also that he had engaged another player who would arrive in time for Saturday's game. Lovelin is highly recommended by Larabee, who will be remembered as one of the old St. John team, and one of the first professionals to play in St. John.

Alerts 6, Roses 5.
The Alerts took yesterday's game from the Roses by a score of 6 to 5. Gunner White and Van Almkirk opposed each other in the box and were about equally effective. The Alerts had a batting rally in the ninth that won the game for them.

THE MAN IN THE MOON.

Life, whether vegetable or animal as we know it, certainly cannot exist under lunar conditions, says the London Mail. The observations of a long day of considerably over 100 hours' duration, with night of similar length, accompanied by changes from excessive heat to its antipodes of cold, would render all earthly life impossible, but experience has taught even here the adaptability of life to most extreme conditions, and it may be believed that, after all, organic life may have found a congenial home in our "lump of night."
