PREMIER AGAINST PREMIER.

The premier of Frince Edward Island is a good deal more certain of some things than the premier of Canada. Mr. Peters. in his statement to the Star on Saturday made it appear that the distribution of the fishery award among the provinces was as good as settled, and he even explained what use would be made of the money. This agrees with what Mr. Peters said four months ago in the legislature at Charlottetown. He then said that he had com munications from the department of marine and fisheries at Ottawa showing that the claim of the province had been so far a mitted that the federal governme was willing to submit the question the adthe supreme court at Otlawa. As ex-plained by Mr. Peters, there was no manner of doubt that Prince Edward Island would get a million dollars, with three per cent. interest for twenty-four years, and that the who would be paid before the close of 1902. So positive was he of the receipt of this money that he did not make financial provision otherwise necessary for certain expenditures.¹¹ the Attorney General Pugsley some months before addressed the electors of Kings in the same sense. The peo-ple were fold that the whole matter the fast line project ignore the fac that Montreal is only a summer port. For instance, we read in the M ained, the small formality of ac-Heralds But Sir Wilfrid Laurier and finance minister Fielding have a different story to tell. To put it plainly, they both fiatly and squitesty contradict the New-Brunswick and Prince Edward Island ministers. Mr. Fielding said that no It would probably be a great It would probably be a great deal essier to obtain popular support for a plan to subsidize freight steamers, for there are vastly more people interested in shipments than in travel. But the fact is that in the matter of freight Canadian parts can hold their own. A shipping agent who knows his business can get freight out of Montreal when it cannot be had at other ports. We have first class ships here, ships that are the gounterpart of the modern box cars, and they have always been able to get carge. How does the shipping agent who action had been taken in the matter, and that the award stood in the same position that it had occupied any time How does the shipping agent who knows his business get his freight out of Montreal in February? The chances are several to one that he sends it to In the last ten years. He spoke rather contemptuously of the claim of the maritime province ministers and inti-mated very clearly his belief that there are several to one that he sends it to Portland or Boston. How do the first class ships of which the Herald speaks get business in January?. Most of them get it by going to a foreign At-lantic port. The Montreal Herald may not know that a single New England port ships each year about half as was nothing in it Mr. Barker of Hamilton put the question fairly to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, referring especially to the statement of Mr. Peters, who had used the illustration of the importunate widow in scripture to show the province had gained its point. "I take the oppor-"tunity," said Sir Wilfrid, "of altomuch Canadian produce as is sent from all the ports on the St. Law-rence. This being the case, it is natugether reassuring my honorable friend for Hamilton on the fears "gether reassuring my honorable "friend for Hamilton on the fears "which he entertains that we may suc-"cumb to the blandishments of these "several widows of whom he has "spoken. I hope our virtue will be "equal to the socasion. There has been loose talk, as my honorable "friend knows, for several years in the maritime provinces, and even in the "province of Quebec, that the award which we obtained under the Wash-"ington treaty should be distributed "knows that almost since we received "the award we have been distribut-ing, practically, the interest on it in "the shape of bounties to file fisher-men, and whether the fishermen re-"ceived it from us or from the inter-"ested provinces in which they live I "do not know that it makes much dif-"forme." ral that Canadians should take some nterest in the increase of Canadian trade through Canadian ports. THE ROLLING MILLS. This city makes a great deal of the establishment of a new industry in the ineighborhood. The closing or removal of one of the largest industrial establishments would be a matter of still greater importance. It may be that the proprietors of the Portland Rolling Mills do not really expect to close down the St. John establishment. close down the St. John establishment. The principal men among them are citizens of this city, and are carrying on other business here. Whatever capital they have has been made here, and the $3,000 or so which they pay weekly in wages and salaries goes to St. John people. The removal of this concern would be a local calamity al-most equal to the closing down of the ference." After discussing the foreshores question briefly, Sir Wilfrid returned to the most equal to the closing down of the cotton mills. St. John is not a large enough city to be able to bear such a subject, adding: "As to the distribu-"tion of the money received under the "fishery award, though I am aware "that claims have been made by sev-"eral provinces, no decision has been loss without feeling it. If the com-pany is laboring under some disad-vantage or injustice that the city can "arrived at. In fact, the subject has " not been considered at all." This statement of Sin Wilfrid was made after the speech of the leader of the Prince Island legislature, and the public letter of Attorney General British army which at the last Pugsley claiming that the federal gov-ernment had practically admitted the provincial claim. According to Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Fleiding, Mr. Peters amounted to 200,000 and causing the death or disablement of one British soldier for every four Boers in the field. But what about Tracy, who all and Mr. Pugsley are indulging in alone in the enemy's country, who all base of supplies, has successfully re-"loose talk." 日日中的可能
