THE IDEAL WIFE FINAL TERMS OF PEACE

Healthy Woman Cannot Be Overestimated.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyesbecause she has the quali-ties which inspire admiration, respect and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature. The influence of women

The influence of women glorious in the possession of perfect physical health upon men and upon the civilization of the world could never be measured. Because of them men have attained the very heights of ambition; because of them even thrones have been established and de-stroyed.

What a disappointment, them, to see the fair young wife's beauty fading sway before a year passes over her head! A sickly, half dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyous mess in the home, and a drag upon her husband. The cost of a wife's con-stant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doo toring does no good.

Stant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doo toring does no good.
If a woman finds her energies are fisgring, and that everything tires her, dark shadows appear under her eyes, her sizep is disturbed by horrible dreams; if she has backache, head aches, bearing down pains, nervous-ness, whites, irregularities, or despon-dency, she should take means to build her system up at once by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound.
This great remedy for women has done more in the way of restoring health to the women of America than all other medicines put together. It is the safeguard of woman's health.
Following we publish, by request, a letter from a young wife.

Japan Waives Her Demand For Indemnity. For Possession of Interned Russian Ships and For Limitation of Russian Sea Power---Treaty Done Next Week,

TWO MORE CONDITIONS WITH-DRAWN.

Articles 10 and 11 (interned warships and the limitation of Russia's sea power in the Far East) were withdrawn. Japan agreed that only that portion of the Chinese-Eastern railway south of Chantafu, the position occupied by Oyama, should be ceded to Japan. Both sides, once the deadlock was broken, wanted a "just and last-ing" peace, and in that spirit it was decided to practically neutralize Sakhalin, each country binding itself not to fortify its half of the island, and Japan assuming an obligation not to fortify La Perouse Strait; between Sakhalin and Hakkaido, which would bar Russia's commercial route to the Pacific. The plenipotentiaries went further. They decided to add a new clause in the nature of a broad provision for mutual commercial privileges by which each country will secure for other the benefit of the "most favored nation" clause and the loor.'

There are six or seven Chinese lepers on D'Arcy Island, and while they are well hoursed and for the term of term well housed and fed, they are not re-ceiving that attention which they should get, because it is impossible to induce any responsible person to go and look after them. In the event of the dominion government acceding to the request, the British Columbia au-thorities promise that the cost of Willie evidently labored under the impression that the bath house was used as a receptacle for clothing, and that a bathing suit was only a matter of taste. So he disrobed, threw his clothing on the bath house steps and ran into the water.

He created a sensation, and soon had two or three life guards and the park police after him. They stood on the shore and invited him out, but Willie would not budge. Manager Anderson and Life Guard Moore went after him, but he ducked every time they reached for him. Finally they got a rope, lassoed him and brought Willie ashore.

They wrapped him in a blanket; then they made him dress, and sent him to police headquarters in Lynn, where Willie wept.

One of the Japanese, however, gave the true note when he remarked: "Tell me that the Mikado has approved of it and I shall be satisfied."

In that sentence was compressed the Spartan heroism of the Japanese na-tion, and when later Mr. Sato issued the official explanation of the reasons that moved the Japanese plenipoteri-tiaries, and it showed that the Mi-kado had approved, there was a per-ceptible change in the feeling of the Japanese. Considerable disappoint-ment, however, continued to be mani-fested. ing of swine × Mr. Peters says it has been clearly demonstrated by experiments made at the Central Farm that crops grown upon land which has been previously sown with clover are from five to twenty per cent. heavier than in cases, where other crops have been grown be-fore. This fact Mr. Charron has placed before the people of New Brunswick, and will no doubt have beneficial results.

The meeting at Fox Creek was adpaid for entirely, though it was largely, by Mr. Jordan, and of the minister's salary Mr. Jordan pays one half and by Dairy Superintendent Daigle in French.
