In the first place they claim that in regard to the birch timber used in the conruction of the wharver, they were forced to supply every stick in accordance with the highest grade named, though for some parts of the work a cheaper quality would have suited equally well. This insistence on the letter of specification was made at a time when that standard of timber was bin. scarce, and they were forced to pay extravagant rates to a St. John man in order to comply with the demand. They do not deny that they were legally bound to do this, but what they do claim is that as good work would have been done and the interests of the citizens as well served had there been a little more of the spirit of give and such a clip to win. That was Speculation's been a little more of the spirit of give and
