T. W. C. Murdoch, Esq., to the Secretary to the Admiralty.

Sir,

Emigration Board, 4 June 1869.

I HAVE the honour to inclose herewith, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the copy of a letter addressed to us by the emigration agent at Quebec, describing the arrangements adopted for forwarding the emigrants by Her Majesty's ship "Crocodile," to Toronto, and stating that immediate employment had been found for them without difficulty.

Extracts from Enclosure accompanying.

I have, &c.

 Enclosure in No 3.

EXTRACT of LETTER from Government.

Immigration Office, Quebec, 21 May 1869.

THE emigrants were transhipped on board the Richelieu Company's steamer "Montreal," on the afternoon of the 7th instant, and dispatched to Toronto.

In order as far as possible to obviate any inconvenience or complaint likely to occur on the road, I deemed it prudent to allow a subordinate officer of this department to accompany them, so that their wants were properly attended to on the journey, and they arrived in Toronto in good health and spirits on the morning of the 10th instant, due preparation having been previously made by the agent there to receive them.

Owing to press of business, the Toronto agent, Mr. Donaldson, has not yet had time to favour me with a full report of his proceedings, but from information recently forwarded to me I learn that these people were judiciously distributed amongst the rural districts in his neighbourhood, and that no difficulty was experienced in obtaining immediate employment for them.

 EXTRACT of LETTER from Her Majesty's Ship "Simoom," Quebec, 9th July 1859.

(Reports arrival at Quebec, 9th July).

THE emigrants have, on the whole, behaved remarkably well, and all the arrangements have perfectly answered.

P.S.—The whole of the emigrants were transferred to the "Montreal" steamer this afternoon, which sailed for that port at 5.30 P.M.
