And the best too, that's what a man wants.

If every man wanted the Best Quality in Clothes as bad as we want 'em to have it-they'd find their way to this store. : : : : : :

But it's the fellow who is attracted by appearances and low prices more than actual worth that we are after—we want him to learn by experience, and thar's no other way so convincing, that, while the New Method Quality combines all the excellence of made-to-measure clothes, it costs no more than the ordinary does at other stores; it's most satisfactory. New Method Suits at $9.99 are bound to meet every requirement of men. They're just right and follow every rule of Fashion as if they were built to measure.

Wheeling, W.Va., July 13.—"We will save our road completed and in operation rom tidewater to tidewater, from ocean became, within eighteen months," said reorge Gould yesterday on the accession of a short visit to Wheeling to ook over the Wabash's interests nere. He said he was able to announce that all arrangements would go through, connecting lines be built and one vast system from east to west running in a year and a half.
"One good feature about the road will be its lack of dangerous or even neavy grades. None will be so hard as to prevent the hauling of seventy or seventy dive cars in a single-head train, and this is saying a great deal," said Mr. Gould. Continuing, he said he was interested personally in the proposed Wheeling, Waynesburg & Eastern Railway, which will connect the great mills of the Wheeling district with the coke fields of Pennsylvania.
