

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines, and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking, or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth, and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal, and the most for the money, is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges. They are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath, and purer blood; and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them. They cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I got more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."—Adv. om.

GOSSIP.

I have been a regular reader of the "Farmer's Advocate" since 1898, and I like it better all the time, as there are always good lessons in it along agricultural lines especially, and stock-raising of all kinds. It brings correspondence to advertisers from all over the continent. I could not do without it. J. K. HUX. Elgin Co., Ont.

Messrs. H. Cargill & Son, Cargill, Ont., make a change in their advertisement in which they offer imported Scotch-bred Shorthorn cows and heifers, with calves at foot or in calf to their best imported bulls; also, Oxford Down sheep, bred straight from imported stock. See notice in March 2nd number of "Farmer's Advocate," page 240, referring to Messrs. Cargill's new tabulated catalogue and the character of their herd. Send for the catalogue, which is a model one in that it is not one-sided, but shows all sides of the pedigree.

STRANGLES.

STRANGLES is an acute, febrile disease affecting horses. It is most common in young animals, and is characterized by swelling and abscesses forming between the bones of the lower jaw, sometimes at other points.

Symptoms.—Languor, dullness, loss of appetite, staring coat and general unthriftiness precedes attacks. The glands between the jaws are swollen and extremely sensitive to the touch. There is a rise of temperature, with increased pulse rate. Sore throat is shown by food and water returning through the nose or dropping from the mouth. As the disease progresses, abscesses in the glands point and break.

Treatment.—Animal should be placed in a well-lighted, clean box stall, where the temperature is fairly even, and sufficient clothing should be applied to keep the animal comfortable. If temperature runs high, say 104° to 105° Fahrenheit, and the pulse is strong, give 10-drop doses of aconite with half-dram doses of fluid extract of belladonna in an ounce of sweet spirits of nitre, three or four times a day.

If the throat is much irritated dram doses of chlorate of potash with two drams of powdered golden seal placed on the tongue three times a day after feeding gives good results.

Like all febrile troubles, strangles reduces the vitality. Tonics should not be neglected. Administer, as directed, regular doses of Dr. Hess' Stock Food—the most powerful of tonics and reconstructives. It is the only stock food formulated and manufactured by a regular graduate of both medical and veterinary colleges. If the medical and veterinary colleges know of nothing better than Dr. Hess' Stock Food it must be good. It gives vigor to both appetite and digestion, and rapidly improves the whole systematic condition of the animal. Sold on a written guarantee: 7 lbs., 65 cts.; 12 lbs., $1.00; 25 lbs., $2.00; 50 lbs., $3.70; 100 lbs., $7.00.

In every package of Dr. Hess' Stock Food a little yellow card is inserted. By returning it to Dr. Hess & Clark, care Information Bureau, together with symptoms and conditions of sick or injured animals, you will receive a letter from Dr. Hess describing the disease, its cause and the latest treatment, including a prescription. This article on strangles is a sample. Judge the value of it yourself.

Dr. Hess has also written a book on diseases of stock and poultry. It is the most comprehensive work for stockmen produced, and enables them to treat their own domestic animals. This valuable book will be mailed free, postage paid, if you will write, state what stock you have, what kind of stock food you have fed, and mention this paper. This work is used and commended by many veterinary surgeons. Address: Dr. Hess & Clark, Ashland, Ohio, U. S. A.
