FORTY-FOURTH YEAR

Principal Gardiner Returned Saturday Evening From Conference.

Mr. Gardiner, Principal of the Ontario School for the Blind, returned on Saturday evening from turbances, was for Jacksonville, Illinois, where he had spent four days in attendance at the twelfth biennial convention of the American Association of Workers for American Association of Workers for the Blind, which meets in the years alternating with the years in which the meetings of the American Association of Instructors of the Blind are held. Owing to the intense heat, the conditions for travelling were not at all pleasant, by day or by night, and recent heavy rains had turned the water supply at Jacksonville.

the color of molasses, with a quantity of sediment that did not enhance the pleasures of the bath. The towns and villages through which one passes on the Wabash railway between Chicago and Jacksonville, with the exception of Decatur and Springfield (the State capital) are neither large nor important. Corn is the staple crop of the district, though there are some fields of oats, barley, wheat and rye. Among the weeds to be seen from the car window are mustand butterenp, milkweed and golden-rod with some sweet clover near, the rail way tracks. The shade trees in the streets of Jacksonville are magnificent, some of the maples being thirty inches in diameter, but the roadways and sidewalks, made of vitrifield drick all of the court house, and disagreeable. It is described as a "dry" town, having enjoyed fer many years what is called in Onarto "local option." The historical associations of Jacksonville are interest ing. Stephen A.
