Ottawa's Product

IN THE GREAT NORTHWEST

MAPLE CREEK, ASSA. August 18th, 1905. J. L. Orme & Sons, Ottawa, Ont. Dear Sirs - This is to let you know that the "Orme" Piano and the Pianola arrived safely about five days ago. I have tried them both during the last few days and they appear to be in perfect condition.

was fortunate enough to have a party of musicians from the Old Country (England) staying with me when the instruments arrived, and they claimed they had never heard a better piano. I am especially glad of this, as another agent informed me that you could not possibly produce an instrument like theirs - having just commenced manufacturing in Ottawa. If this is so, you have made a very good start and have my congratulations.

I may say that these instruments arrived in this good condition after a 25-mile drive over the Cypress Hills in my ranch in a lumber wagon and behind a team of broncos. I am, Yours very truly, GEO. F. WATSON.

This letter came to us totally unsolicited - came as a simple acknowledgment of "goods received." The writer - Geo. F. Watson, Esq. - is an English gentleman rancher, totally unknown to us except through correspondence. We feel that his statement - given above - is one of the strongest testimonials which can ever be published as to the merit of the "Orme" Piano.

We are young in point of manufacturing years, but every official of the factory is a past master in his particular branch and all these have determined to make this piano "The Leader."

Further comment is unnecessary - we would just add that there are now four "Orme" styles being manufactured, full particulars of which, together with cuts, will be forwarded to any address request.

The publication of the complete list of Frankville fair prize-winners has necessitated the curtailment of general and local news, but "the farmer is the man that feeds us all," so our urban readers will not object. This week every prize-winner and every special prize giver will receive a copy of the Reporter.

This week a considerable extension is taking place in Mr. W. F. Earl's acetylene gas system. A main is being laid along Main, Victoria and church streets and lights are to be installed in the business places of E. C. Tribute, Wm. Coulin, the office of Dr. Harto, the residences of Wm. Jacob, T. G. Stevens, T. S. Kendrick, and the Baptist church. It is probable that others along this line will become subscribers. It is a significant fact that the Earl light retains its popularity with all who have used it.

It has been said that when a sick man recovers so far that he feels like "eating something," the neighbors stop sending things in. Several days ago the editor of the Reporter reached that stage of convalescence where fancy tit-bits were no longer necessary to tempt his appetite, and he was beginning to long for a return of his late bill-of-fare, when he was startled by a crash of glass and turned in time to see a fine plump partridge drop on the floor. Providence is taking care of the printer alright, but we wish the birds would come in the office door or select a smaller pane of glass for their entry.

Miss M. Stinson, teacher at Westport, is ill at her home here.

Mrs. (Rev.) Arthur Hagar of Moultonette called on Athens friends this week.
