VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.
Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was advised to stop work for a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as liars better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilled. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $31 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."
HENRY C. LOCUST.

A 'CROSS COUNTER TALK

Customer: "What constitutes good paint?"
Dealer: "Good paint depends on the materials used, the processes of manufacture, and the skill of the painter—no more, no less."
"Sherwin-Williams Paint, Prepared, is good paint—the best paint, in fact, that can be made. No care or detail is lacking in its manufacture. The materials employed are of the highest quality and are properly put together by experienced paint makers. The linseed oil—the vital part of paint—used in S.W.P. is made especially by The S.W. Co. in their own mills. The pigments are selected with greatest care and scrupulously tested. The tinting colors are products of the Company's own dry color works. And the mills used for grinding and mixing are designed and made in the machine shops of the Company. They embody the most advanced ideas in paint making. With such high quality materials, such care and attention, S.W.P. must be and is good paint all the way through."

DEATH OF N. K. BENEDICT

On Sunday morning last, Nathaniel K. Benedict, a highly esteemed citizen of Athens, departed this life, aged nearly 85 years. He had been ill for over a year, though at times able to walk up town and visit his farm in Plum Hollow.

He was born in Plum Hollow and followed the occupation of farmer, but several years ago retired from the farm and became a resident of Athens. He was twice married, his first wife dying some 32 years ago. There were two daughters by this union, Mrs. S. Holmes of Elmda, and Mrs. W. Gifford of Plum Hollow, both having passed away some years ago. His second wife was Melissa Blagher, of Athens, who survives, also a niece, Mrs. A. Kilborn, of Plum Hollow, whom they adopted when an infant on the death of her mother, Mrs. Wm Robinson. Four grandchildren also survive, S. S. Holmes, of Toronto; M. Holmes, of Frankville; P. Gifford, of Elgin; and Mrs. C. Wilsee, of Havelock, and a brother who is in his 92nd year, Isaac Benedict, of Franklin, Neb. Mr. Benedict was of a quiet disposition, upright and honest in all his dealings, a man whose word was as good as his bond. In religion he was a Baptist, being a deacon of the church for many years, and in politics a Liberal. An ardent temperance advocate his support could always be counted upon in any movement for the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

The funeral took place at 1 p. m. on Monday from his late residence to the Methodist church. Service was conducted by the pastor now in charge of the Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Row, of Cobden, and interment was at Plum Hollow. The widow and sorrowing friends have the sympathy of all in their great sorrow and loss.

LOCAL CHEESE MARKET

At Brockville on Thursday last cheese ruled at 13c, though two lots of white brought 13 1-16c. An address was delivered by Chief Dairy Instructor, G. G. Publow, and the Recorder quotes him as follows:—
He referred to the complaint made at the board meeting last Thursday that a number of the cheese from this section, when examined in Montreal, were found to be weak in body and more or less open in texture. Mr. Publow said the remedy for this defect was to make the curds firmer in the whey and stir them out drier at the time of dipping before allowing the curd to mature. The curd also should be well shrunk after milling before applying the salt. More salt per thousand of milk should be used as there is a greater yield of cheese from the milk than earlier in the season. Some makers seem to lose sight of this fact. In addition the tall cheese should be made to show good keeping qualities and this fact should receive special attention. He also urged that makers keep their shelves as clean as possible. For the benefit of the Brockville section cheese in England, Mr. Publow strongly advised that the goods be held at least eight or ten days.

THE CASE OF JOHN JONES

Some of our exchanges are discussing the case of a man named John Jones who had the ambition to own a home of his own. Being without means, he waited his chance and secured a brokendown place badly in need of repair. The cellar was full of stagnant water, weeds grew all about, the porches were falling down from decay, the walks were in ruins, the building badly needed paint. The place was an eyesore; it was worse than that, it was a menace to the neighborhood. Jones, however, wanted a home: He saw the possibilities of the place, so he bought it and, being handy with tools, he worked away night and morning, after office hours, putting it into shape. He repaired the house, inside and out, painted it, sodded the weed-grown lawn, laid a new walk up to the door, and put in drainage. He worked early and late and made the place a credit to the town. And then the assessor came along and doubled the taxes. Why was he fined by the town for what he had done? The place with its water filled cellar, its weed-grown lawn, had been a menace. Jones by the labor of his hands made it a nice place, a credit to the town. What had the town done to entitle it to more taxes from that property? Nothing whatever. Jones had done it all. Instead of being fined Jones deserved a bonus from the municipality. He had done the neighborhood and the whole town a good turn.
Next door was a vacant lot, covered with weeds. Jones, by improving his place, made this adjoining lot more valuable, but the town did not increase the taxes on it because it was an idle lot, doing nothing—and towns, as you can see, love idle lots. How upside down and wrongside out the whole assessment system is in Ontario! We fine those who improve their properties, and exempt those who let theirs lie idle. The man who lets his premises fall into decay gets his taxes reduced; the man who trims his place up pays his own tax and is called on to pay what the other man doesn't.

DAIRYING IN CANADA

Conditions affecting the marketing end of the industry in Canada have undergone rapid changes during recent years. In the past it has been the custom to estimate the growth of the industry on the export trade. This however has become an entirely unreliable guide because Canada no longer has butter to spare but on the other hand finds it necessary to import from other countries. Cheese exports too have greatly decreased. These facts were brought to the attention of the Select Standing Committee on Agriculture and Colonization during the past session of Parliament by Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner who showed very clearly that the industry is not losing ground but is making steady progress. It was brought out that the Canadian people are consuming relatively more milk and milk products than heretofore and that an increasing quantity of milk is being manufactured into condensed milk, casein and other products.
During the course of Mr. Ruddick's evidence he gave out a great deal of interesting information concerning the tendency of the industry. This has now been printed in a pamphlet of fourteen pages for free distribution to all who apply for it to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.
Cold in the West
Winnipeg, Oct. 6—The first snow of the season is falling to-day in parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, with temperature around freezing point, Alberta reports none and Winnipeg and vicinity have escaped. According to usual time-table this cold dip should reach here by Friday next.
