Word has recently been received by Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Fraser, Greenewich, of the illness of their son Everett, of the Grenade Platoon, Headquarters Co., 219th Batt., England. He was ill with a bad cold and an attack of rheumatism. They took him by ambulance to Bramshott Hospital where he would have better care than at the Grenade Hospital. He had to spend Christmas and New Year's Day at the hospital and speaks highly of the kind attention and care of the sisters and orderlies. The hospital is supplied with needful things from the Red Cross Society, is splendidly situated, and the lovely view which he had from the window lying in bed, of the hills and woods, formed a picture worth looking at. The last report stated that he was much better. His brother Kenneth is of the Grenadiers, also Brenton Eagles of this town. The platoon consists of 40 men, 4 corporals, 1 sergeant and 1 lieutenant. Platoon is divided into four sections.

Former Wolfvillian Dead.

LAURA W. HARRIS The death occurred recently at Malden, Mass., of Miss Laura W. Harris, only daughter of the late David J. and Rebecca Elder Harris, former residents of Wolfville. Two brothers survive her, J. E. Harris, of Malden, and Prof. W. F. Harris, of Cambridge, Mass. Miss Harris was a woman of remarkable intellectual and artistic ability and was deeply interested in charitable work. A very beautiful tribute from her associates in the Karish Club, a literary club of which she was for many years a prominent member, was published in a Malden paper and from it the following extracts are taken: 'Hers was a rare character, grounded on high ideals, strengthened by firm principles and crowned with a Christian Charity. Though she might live on the heights by virtue of her artistic temperament and her keen love for all things beautiful, yet was she intensely human and near to her fellow creatures, with a sympathy ever alert and an unflinching interest in their individual lives. She brought among us a spirit of tolerance and kindness, making us better women by her companionship. Endowed with gifts beyond the measure of her associates, she gave of her talents freely and cheerfully. To work with her was an inspiration, to work for her, an inestimable privilege.'

We have a membership of fifty-five, ladies and gentlemen who are contributing $1.00 a month, six who contribute 50 cents and 25 cents, all for which we are profoundly grateful. Yet with this regular fund coming in we could not carry on our work were it not for donations so generously sent to us, which our Society has, from time to time, gratefully acknowledged through the columns of THE ACADIAN.

Letter From the Front.

The following letter received by Mrs. W. J. Botes, Grand Pre, from her son Russell, is gladly given a place in our columns and will be read with interest: Somewhere in France, Dec. 13th, 1916.

My Dear Mother:—Your ever so welcome letter came a few days ago, also the parcels. Many thanks for both.

We are having a little winter weather at present. It started to snow yesterday morning but it did not amount to anything for the ground was white only a short time. It looked fine while it lasted. The last time we were relieved there was snow on the ground.

We are having a lovely walk coming from the trenches. You can imagine what it would be like after an inch of snow on the ground and the snow melting along with rain in the mean time, but we did not mind that. Nothing would stop us when we are coming out after being eight days in the front line. I hope we do not make another trip that long for it is an awful strain; not only the cold and wet, but the nerves get bad as well. Too much of it is not good.

This was my first trip in with the Signallers and it made a great difference to me for there were no listening post or fatigue parties to do. We get clear of those things and it is right that we should for we have other duties to do. I have done my little share of company duty anyhow. There is nothing the company does that I have not had a turn at. The worst job they have is wire tapping, that is putting up barbed wire in 'No Man's Land'. I have been on one. I will tell you a little about what it is like.

For a start we had to go out and get barbed wire and carry it to the front line. When we had the wire all ready we had to wait for the moon to go down before we could get out of the trench for Fritz could see us as it was nearly as bright as day. After waiting for nearly an hour a cloud came over and it darkened a little so we hopped out of the trench. We got a hundred yards ahead and it was before the moon came up again. Just before we were going to get back in the trench I stood up to hand the pair of wire snips we were using to the Corporal. As I did a sniper saw me and fired. The bullet just missed me and the officer warned me to be more careful. It was a good thing we finished at that place for that sniper would have kept a sharp watch there all the time after seeing me. Now we had another place to wire a little closer to Fritz's trench, and thank our lucky stars it got darker for we were all pretty nervous, as Fritz has real good snipers. When the officer gave the word to get out of the trench we all looked at each other waiting to see who would get over first but we did not stand looking long for we made a dive over and worked until daylight began to peek over, then we made a dive into the trench. We did not look at one another to see who would get in the trench first. The Corporal I mentioned was killed by a sniper this trip in while on a wiring party.

I do not see many of the Nova Scotia boys in this brigade it is made up of western battalions only. By chance yesterday I saw one of my old chums, Bur on Jess. He came to England in the same draft I did. His home is in Kentville. I got an awful surprise when we were going into the trenches the last time. I met Murray Knowles, from Windsor. I had been told by the boys in the same battalion he is in that he was taken a prisoner last June. I must close for this time. Lots of love to you all. Your soldier boy, RUSSEL.

The Boy Scouts.

Last Saturday some of the newly organized Hantsport Scouts visited Wolfville and played the Wolfville Scouts games of Hockey and Basketball. Although the visitors were defeated in both games they showed the true Scout spirit and proved themselves good sports. The Wolfville boys entertained them at dinner and supper and gave them a good send off at the station. A return game will be played at Hantsport on Saturday, Jan. 20th, weather permitting. Friday evening the program is as follows: 6:45 to 7:30—Juniors. 7:30—Talk by Rev. Mr. Dixon on 'Books a Boy Should Read.' 8 to 9—Basket Ball practice. From 9 to 10 there will be a practice game of Hockey between the Scout team and a team composed of town boys, who are not Scouts.

Flattering to the Original

But Imitations Only Disappoint

There are many imitations of this great treatment for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and whooping cough. They usually have some sale on the streets of the original, but it would be remembered that they are like it in name only.

This is a facsimile of the package bearing a portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D.

A merchant who does not advertise never lives to retire. He may buy the best and sell at a fair profit, but if he neglects to tell people about it, his shelves will become burdened with shop-worn goods. You can tell whether or not a merchant is alive and progressive by his advertisements.
