CATARH CANNOT BE CURED
with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarh Cure was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarh Cure is what produces such wonderful results in catarh conditions. Send for testimonials free.

IN THE POLICE COURT
Two local young men who were arrested on a charge of drunkenness on the 12th came up before Police Magistrate Lawlor last week and were assessed $5.00 and costs. One of the defendants failed to give a satisfactory account of where he obtained his firewater and a second charge was laid against him for carrying liquor illegally and he was fined $25.00 and costs on this charge.

Worthy Tributes To Dead Hero

Letters From Overseas Tell of Death of Lieut. Fred Moore
In Action

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Moore, whose only son, Claude, made the supreme sacrifice in the service of the empire, have received the following letters bearing testimony to that which their host of friends know, the splendid qualities of their deceased heroic son. The letters which explain themselves read as follows: (France)

August 30 1918
My Dear Mrs. Moore: By the time you receive this you will have been advised of Claude's gallant death in action while attacking the enemy line. Your heart will be torn with grief over your loss and to your dear friends and yours may I express my sincere sympathy in your bereavement.

Claude and I have pals and partners since November last and this is our first separation. He was the most genuine pal I could possibly have had and his cheerfulness and unselfishness were characteristics appreciated by his brother officers and men under him.

I saw him daily before his death and on Sunday night I had a few words with him: He was in the support trenches and was in command of (A) Company during the temporary absence of the company commander. He was just about to bring up the company to the point where the attack would commence. The Colonel had selected him to take command owing to his previous experience and thorough training. Later he must have been rejoined by his company commander for he was severely wounded in the same battle. Claude's servant is missing and as yet I have only been able to get scattered details. Later I will write again and let you know. With a party of men he had gone ahead of our front line and established an outpost to keep the enemy back. His position was in a valley and the distance an enemy machine gun fired from his right flank up the valley. Death must have been instantaneous. The Colonel told me last night that Claude had done exceptionally good work during the attack and his fearlessness and courage in pushing on against the enemy had inspired all the platoon who would have followed him anywhere. At least half of them were in action for the first time and Claude was their leader and their example.

Death is hard to bear but it must be consolation to you all to know that he fell fighting hard and took part in a great battle, one of the greatest where we alone regained our frontage about 8,000 yards of French soil from the enemy who either surrendered or fled when we came up to them. No soldier could have a more heroic death, and it is the memory of such brave men as your son that will be handed down through history with reverence, respect and appreciation. We do not know what the next hour will bring and must be prepared to accept whatever responsibility may be put upon us.

I am writing now only a few hundred yards from the scene of Monday morning's battle but the enemy is miles from here today with fresh men of ours in pursuit. Today we follow in motor buses and lorries so I am writing you at once. Our own particular share was two days hard fighting and from my battalion fourteen officers are casualties. Yesterday morning our troops had their first bit of rest and my platoon sergeant, found Claude's body and had it brought to the battalion. I saw it yesterday afternoon before he was finally laid to rest and I can assure you he was not in any way disfigured or maimed. His grave is with the others on the battlefield less than a thousand yards from Maricourt, west side) just off the main road between Bray and Maricourt on the side nearest the Somme River.

The letters I enclose were in his pocket when killed. When I return to the battalion rest camp I will get together what personal articles of his I can, provided they have not already been forwarded to Cox and Co. 16 Charing Cross, London on your behalf. Cox and Co. are our bankers and agents.

I miss him greatly for he was always cheery and bright and we were never separated, so in your loss I share to a degree.

He always regarded me as a trusted confidant and I realize how deeply he loved you all at home and how happy he was when mail came from you all and how proud of little sister.

My work this trip has been of a different nature and less dangerous, so I have much to be thankful for. In sincere sympathy and heartfelt consolation, I send you my best wishes.

Yours very sincerely,
E. STUART DAVIDSON

September 2, 1918
Dear Sir: It is with the greatest regret that I have to inform you of the death of your son, Lieut. C. L. Moore, killed in action on 26th August in an assault on the enemy lines. He had only been with us a short time but in that time he had proved his worth and capacity as an officer. He held his platoon on the 26th with great dash and gallantry but unfortunately came under heavy machine gun fire and was shot down. His example and disregard of self was an inspiration to his men and I deeply regret the loss of such a very promising officer. We brought his body in later and he was buried near Bray.

Please accept my sincerest sympathy and I only trust it may be some consolation to you in your sorrow to know that he died a true soldier's death at the head of his men in action.

I am dear Sir,
Yours very truly,
C. E. JOHNSTON,
Lieut.-Col.

3rd September, 1918
Dear Mrs. Moore: By the time this letter reaches you, you will have heard of the death of your son, Lieut. C. L. Moore, of this battalion. He was killed in the great British attack of August 25-26 whilst leading his men in action, and his death was instantaneous.

During the short time he was with us out here he was liked and respected by all for his good soldierly qualities and his death a great loss to us. His body is buried in a British cemetery near Bray and a cross is being erected on the spot.

I am sure officers and men alike, who know him will join with me in expressing our deep sympathy with you in your loss.

Yours sincerely,
C. F. RICHARDS,
Chaplain, 7th London Regt.

From: Lieut.-Col. Sir Peter C. van B. Stewart-Bam, Commanding 7th (Res.) Batt. The London Regiment.

To: Mr. F. H. Moore,
257 Lutz Street,
Moncton, N. B. Canada

Dear Mr. Moore,
I am writing to you on behalf of myself and my brother officers and all ranks of the 7th London to deeply sympathize with you in the death of your son, 2nd Lieut. Moore who was killed in action on the 26th August. It seems only a few days ago that your boy went overseas. He was with this Battalion for sometime, and I was able to see a good deal of him, and I always found him very enthusiastic about his work. I am sorry to say that our casualties have been very heavy.

I have not yet had a photograph of your son. If you have one to spare I shall be so glad if you can let me have it. I thank you in anticipation. Again in deepest sympathy and with kind regards,

Yours sincerely,
P. C. van B. Stewart-Bam.

REV. H. T. MONTGOMERY
TO RETURN TO DERBY

Rev. C. Tully Montgomery, son of Rev. Canon H. T. Montgomery, formerly of Springhill, York county, arrived in Farnborough Thursday from Calgary, Alberta. He was for some years stationed at Millerton, Northumberland county, but went to Calgary about two years ago to relieve his father who went overseas as chaplain with an Alberta battalion. In addition to his father, Rev. C. T. Montgomery has four brothers, all well known in York county, serving overseas. Rev. Mr. Montgomery expects shortly to resume the Rectoryship of Millerton and Derby.

You Need More Than A Laxative

To correct constipation, all organs of digestion and elimination should be helped. Try NR and see how much better you feel.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

To live and be healthy, your body mechanism must properly digest your food, extract all the nourishment from it and promptly throw off the waste that is left. This is accomplished by the processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the work of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The failure of any of the vital organs to do its work properly affects the action of all the others. A forced bowel movement does not help constipation; it only relieves for a few hours the condition that constipation brings about.

Now if you are used to taking so-called laxative pills, oil, purges and the like, you know exactly what you're getting. You're taking them all the time, moreover, if you stick to any one laxative, you're apt to be increasing the dose all the time. That can do you a lot of harm.

Stop doing yourself with such things just long enough to give Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a trial, and let the results show the difference. NR Tablets are not mere bowel movers, their purpose is to correct the condition that induces constipation and give you real, genuine, lasting benefit; to improve your digestion and assimilation, give you a good hearty appetite, regulate your liver and bowels, tone up kidney action and give your poison-clogged body a good cleaning out.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is not harsh; it is mild, easy, pleasant in action; no griping or pain ever follows its use; but it is thorough and sure. By its action on the digestive organs it promotes assimilation, which means extraction of full nourishment from your food, and thereby gives you new strength, energy, better blood, better appetite. By toning, not stirring your lazy liver, NR sends bile into the intestines, improving intestinal digestion. Lastly, by gently encouraging more vigorous bowel and kidney action, NR drives poisonous impurities out of and cleans up your body.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and just see how much better you feel in every way. Get a 25c box today and take one each night for a week. You'll say you never felt better in your life. NR is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.
