THE HORRORS IN RUSSIA.

Jews and Nihilists Not the Only Victims - Terrors and Inquisition - Patriotism and Truth.

There is, perhaps, no country in the world more than Russia which could give us a better illustration of this terribly magnificent exclamation of Shakespeare: "Famine is in my cheeks,

Need and oppression starveth in my eyes; Upon thy back hangs ragged misery; The world is not thy friend, nor the world's While famine now lays waste and now ravages the land of the Czar, the whirlwind of abject oppression continues roaring there with the utmost ferocity. I gave lately in these columns a summary picture of Russian ignorance regarding Canadian matters. I could draw a parallel picture of the ignorance of the American press relative to the despotism of Alexander III. But the publicists of the new continent are excusable for their misrepresentation of Muscovite horrors, as they have no source wherefrom to draw exact information, the Russian press being severely muzzled by the censor, and the local papers are silent as the grave on all borrifying events going on carelessly in their unfortunate country. In reading everely muzzled by the censor, and the their unfortunate country. In reading the cable reports about the savage perseand nationality," people think that the Hebrews are the only victims of this disgrace. But the fact is that official ignorniny knows no mercy, and the Gentiles have to undergo nearly the same fate. Siberia, the terrestial hell, is becoming every day more and more peopled with the flower of intelligence, youth and integrity whose only crime is not to say "Amen" to the brutality of the Czar's in-

LONDON BRIDGE

A Short Sketch of the World's Famous Bridge — Its Destruction. The original building or the bridge cannot be discovered. As long as we know For a long time it was a bridge of timber provided with a fortified gate - one of the gates of the city. In the year 1091, St. Edmund the archbishop, at the hour authors in all ages seize upon the opportunity of parading their knowledge-from Africa! all that way! - blew upon the city and overthrew upwards of six hundred houses and several churches, greatly damaged the tower and tore away the Bow, in Cheapside. During the same storm the water in the Thames rose with such rapidity and increased so violently

The bridge was rebuilt. Two years afterward it narrowly escaped destruction 1135. It was immediately rebuilt, but I

HOW THEY DRESS IN BURMAH. In Burmah the poorer classes usually wear but one garment, consisting of a single piece of colored cotton cloth about a yard and a half wide, and of such a length that it can be wound around the chest or waist and fall to the feet. The women bind this strip of cloth tightly around the bust, under the arms, leaving the shoulders and neck bare, and the opening folds of the dress are at the
