Another Weak Spot in Case is Revealed-She is Accused of Murdering President Faure.

Paris, Nov. 12-Another weak spot was revealed in the case against Mme Steinheil today, when M. Riolle, con for the crown, admitted, in response for the crown, admitted, in response to a question by M. Aubin, counsel linguist to the accused woman, that he had sugar trust and others equally unpopnot called two prisoners, to whom ular, if necessary. Madame Steinheil is alleged to have confessed the killing of her husband, MILLION POUNDS FOR because their veracity was not beyond question. This admission of the prosecutor was greeted with laughter and many manifestations of sympa thy with the accused on the part of the audience in the court room. It was a trying day for Mme. Stein heil, but she sat through all the scathinciation of the judge advocate with downcast eyes, occasionally weeping silently. M. I wo months before he died so mysteriously, there were a series of inter views between Mme. Stenheil's mother and the leaders among the Dreyfusincluding the late M. Scheuer-Kosther, one of the vice-presidents of the senate, who, with Emile Zola, did most to re-establish Dreyfus. Two weeks before his death, February 16, 1899, Faure established a secret boudoir in the Elysee palace. There he died and the newspapers assert that it was known in Liverpool and other foreign markets six hou before the event, that he would die.
