"MARK TWAIN."

Samuel Langhorne Clemens whose death at the age of 74 is just announced, was a great humorist, a wit and a sentimentalist. "Mark Twain" his pen name was the word used by the pilots on the Mississippi to denote two fathoms deep. Clemens' great book was "The Innocents Abroad." It is full of humor and also good sense, and an excellent Guide Book for Europe. It describes the adventures of a lot of Americans on a continental tour. Clemens led a very adventurous life before his great success as a writer, and many of his best stories are real tales of his own varied experiences as a printer, pilot on the great river, salesman and traveller. Laughter and tears are close together. The greatest humorist of a former age Sterne and his sentimental journey amuses the reader and also touches his tenderest feelings. Mark Twain had the same temperament, rollicking humour with the deepest affection. He was wrapped up in his daughter, the only remaining member of his family. She was his dear companion. When she passed away after a sudden illness, all the desire and love of life left the bereaved and stricken father. He literally died of a broken heart.—D. W. P. April 23, 1910.

The local train at 6 p.m. yesterday took out about 50 passengers.

MISCHIEF MAKER

An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. A Brooklyn man says: "When baby was about eleven months old he began to grow thin and pale. This was, at first, attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but, in reality, the poor little thing was starving, his mother's milk not being sufficient nourishment. "One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoonfuls in a saucer, with a little sugar and warm milk. This baby ate so ravenously that she fixed a second which he likewise finished. "It was not many days before he forgot all about being nursed, and has since lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. To-day the boy is strong and robust, and as cute a mischief-maker as a thirteen months old baby is expected to be. "We have put before him other foods, but he will have none of them, evidently preferring to stick to that which did him so much good—his old friend Grape-Nuts. "Use this letter any way you wish, for my wife and I can never praise Grape-Nuts enough after the brightness it has brought to our household." Grape-Nuts is not made for a baby food, but experience with thousands of babies shows it to be among the best, if not entirely the best in use. Being a scientific preparation of Nature's grains, it is equally effective as a body and brain builder for grown-ups. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

The Postal Service.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—With your permission I would ask a question or two re mail service in outports. Who is the responsible party as to changing way offices? Is it the Postmaster General or the member who represents the district? If the former gentleman is responsible, I think it would be wise for him to enquire as to the educational ability of appointees before making the change. I believe the mail service in outports should be conducted according to proper forms, i.e. the person in charge should be able to read. As an advocate of fair play, I say leave such jobs with a man or woman who understands the work and gives public satisfaction. I know of a change in charge of a person who had to call in a messenger and ask to whom a letter belonged. Yours truly, OBSERVER. Salmonier, April 20, 1910.

Complaint From Fox Harbor.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to state a few facts in connection with the way our freight for Fox Harbor is handled by the train hands. Mistakes will occur of course, but they have occurred here too often to have them passed over lightly. The railway station is situated about three miles from Fox Harbor and the road thither is almost unfit for travel in "damp" weather. It has been there 18 years now and never received any repair. People cannot cart freight out, they must go in the Sound by water then roll, wheel or drag the unfortunate parcels a mile and a half to the water. They have been doing this too often now to complain at the disadvantages, but when the railway men think it too much trouble to throw off a parcel and thus have it carried to Placentia so that it cost the owner double freight, plus storage, if the conductor happens to "forget" to bring it on the return trip. This kind of thing has been going on for some time past, and those who have been put to so much disadvantage by these "mistakes" have almost resolved never to have anything come by train again. It is the business of the railroad officials to give the public a square deal and to give all freight the proper attention. Those who do not or will not do so have no business holding such responsible positions. Trusting you will give the above publicity in your esteemed paper, and thanking you in anticipation, I remain, yours etc. "SUFFERER." Fox Harbor, April 20th, 1910.

Cable News.

SENSATIONAL FAILURE.

Special to Evening Telegram. LIVERPOOL, April 22. The cotton market to-day was excited to an almost unprecedented degree by sensational reports of the failure of the Alabama cotton firm of Knight, Yancey & Co., which heavily hit the Liverpool cotton houses. A cable despatch from New Orleans, which fell like an explosion of dynamite, said that Knight, Yancey & Co. were short in Liverpool 25,000 bales, in Havre 8,000 bales, and in Genoa 6,000 bales. The would make a total loss at current quotations of over 6,000 bales. This would make a total believed to have been affected by the failure of the Alabama firm.

PURCHASES PEARSON'S PAPERS.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, April 22. Davison Dalziel, the well known financier and Unionist member of Parliament for Lambeth, has purchased the controlling interest in the Standard and the Evening Standard also from C. A. Pearson, the state of whose health compels him to restrict the sphere of his business. There will be no change in the policy of the newspapers.

BIG FORGERIES DISCOVERED.

Special to Evening Telegram. LIVERPOOL, April 22. There was a sensation in the cotton circles to-day, born of widely circulated statements that forged bills of lading for cotton, supposed to have been shipped from the U.S. had been uncovered. The alleged fraudulent methods was said to involve cottons valued at $2,500,000, and in addition to 30 Liverpool concerns, it was stated that several continental cotton houses were heavy losers. The Echo says that the method of using the alleged false bills of lading was to append facsimile carriers' signatures to bills of lading sent with drafts to this side before the cotton was delivered by carriers, and that importers in many cases paid such drafts. When the practice was discovered the steamship companies withheld deliveries until the bills of lading were verified. The Echo says that an investigation made by the importers shows that not only were a number of those bills of lading false, but there was actually no cotton against some of them.

MARK TWAIN'S FUNERAL.

Special to Evening Telegram. NEW YORK, April 22.—A simple funeral service over the body of Samuel Clemens will be held in this city this afternoon. The body will then be taken to Elmira, N.Y., where it will be buried beside those of his wife and children. Later a public memorial service will be held in a large hall. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton University, will preach the funeral sermon to-morrow which will be held at the Brick Presbyterian Church at 3 o'clock. The service will be attended by only relatives and close friends of the dead author. There will be no pall bearers. Although final arrangements have not been made the service probably will consist of merely a short address by Dr. Van Dyke. There probably will be no music. The body will be sent to New York from Redding, Conn., on a special car.

MOURNED IN ENGLAND.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, April 22.—The British public followed the reports of Mark Twain's last illness with deepest sympathy, and the news of his death will be felt as a national loss. All of the London newspapers publish extended sketches of his career with portraits, and especially recalling his last visit to England in 1907 when Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, presiding at a Pilgrims' Dinner, paid an eloquent tribute to Mark Twain as a man Englishmen delighted to honour.

SALVING THE MINEHABA.

Bad Train Robbery.

Benicia, Cal., April 17.—The China-Japan mail, which left San Francisco over the Southern Pacific Railway for the East at 9 o'clock Saturday night, was held up by two masked men at Sprig, two miles east of here, early to-day and robbed of nine pouches of registered mail. The passengers on the train were not disturbed, and several of them did not learn of the robbery until this morning. Four of the pouches have been recovered, but the robbers rifled the others, and now are hiding in the mountains. Before the fast mail arrived at Benicia, two men, who had left Oakland on another train two hours earlier and had left their train on the Port Costa ferry, climbed unobserved on the rear of the fast mail's locomotive. The train had only gone a short distance from Benicia when they crawled over the oil tank of the tender and, pointing revolvers at the engineer and fireman, ordered them to stop the engine and get off. Then the robbers compelled the engineer and fireman to get into the mail car, which was in charge of Herbert J. Black and his assistant, T. A. Clancy. "Throw out the registered mail pouches," the robbers ordered. Black started to throw out the newspaper sacks, but the robbers detected the ruse at once. They threatened to kill the clerk unless he gave them the registered mail. Black complied. The engine crew was then made to carry the nine sacks to the engine. The engine and mail car were uncoupled from the coaches filled with sleeping passengers, and run down the track two miles. Here the mail pouches were thrown out, the engine was uncoupled, and its throttle pushed wide open. The engine dashed wildly forward towards No. 5 west-bound train, heavily loaded, sixteen miles east, passing the first section on a siding at Cygnus. As the engine passed the station at Suisun, the operator noticed it was running wild. He immediately reported to the dispatcher's office at Oakland, and received instructions to call men to derail the on-coming engine. The second section of the west-bound train had just arrived at Tolena under orders to wait there for the China-Japan mail. The switch was thrown over and the runaway engine, with this time prey well out of steam, ran on a siding and dashed into a string of box cars. In the meantime, the robbers made their escape.

Spark From Pipe Results in Death of an Aged Ontario Man.

WINDSOR MILLS, April 16.—Gabriel Therrien, over eighty years of age and an invalid through rheumatism, was burned alive in his bed at his farm house at St. Francis Xavier, Brompton, about four miles from here, late Wednesday. Alone in the house indulging in his own comfort, his old clay pipe, it is supposed a spark set fire to the bed. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Therrien on her return from attending the cattle. The house was then a mass of flames. Mrs. Therrien was unable to rescue the old man. It is thought he might have been overcome by the smoke, as no outcry was heard. The lone woman stood by and watched the little home crumble under the flames with her husband a helpless victim inside. Within a brief space of time the entire place was a smouldering ruin.

Not Ordinary Eggs.

One Cost $10,000—Another Contained a Wedding Trousseau.

A Pretty story of an Easter egg relates to one in the Museum at Berlin. The story runs that a great Prince was affianced to a lovely Princess and promised to send her an Easter gift by which she could in some degree measure his love. He sent an egg. So angry was she that she threw it upon the floor, when the lovely shell opened, disclosed a silver lining. Picking up the despoiled token the Princess discovered a secret spring which on being touched revealed a crown of rubies. In the ruby crown was yet another spring, disclosing a diamond betrothal ring from the romantic Prince.

But London scores when it comes to the costliness, magnificence and ingenuity of the Easter egg, say the Lady's Pictorial, for it supplied him to hold the trousseau of a south African millionaire's bride. The shell was of chocolate and besides the trousseau it contained masses of sweets. Some twenty or thirty years ago a great English lady presented the Pope with an Easter egg which cost her over £2,000. Its shell was of ivory lined with white satin, the yolk was of gold, and within the yolk was a great ruby set with diamonds. Not so valuable, yet more ingenious, was an Easter egg manufactured as a gift to an infant of Spain. Its shell was of white enamel; within this was engraved the Gospel Lesson for Easter Day, and the whole inclosed a cage containing a marvelous mechanical bird which sang twelve airs from operas.

HOW CAN WE COUNTER-ACT THE INCREASED COST OF LIVING?

A second's reasoning will supply the answer. Beef and pork are dear and getting dearer all the time, and the cost is out of proportion with their food-value.

EAT MORE BREAD.

There is more nourishment in a shilling's worth of bread than a shilling's worth of beef or pork. But the problem is not done with yet. The shilling's worth of bread is not always the same value. Bread made from contains more nourishment than any other, because it contains the greatest amount of gluten, the health-giving nutriment of wheat.

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR.
