Prescription "A"

Cures Indigestion and Dyspepsia in all its Forms.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

DR. F. STAFFORD & SONS, Duckworth St. and Theatre Hill.

Small size, 25 cents; postage 5c. extra; large size, 50 cents; postage, 10c. extra. Mail orders must be accompanied by remittance.—dec 7

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

ask himself at least once a year. And what better time than this, the end of the first lap of the New Year, to ask it?

I'll tell you what made me think of this subject. A college girl who had been out of college ten years went to a reunion. At that reunion one of her classmates who is a music teacher played a piano solo. The first girl is a teacher, but she understands a good deal about music and she realized at once that her classmate had improved to a wonderful degree in her playing. And not only did she play infinitely better than she had during her college days, but even better than she had three or even two years ago.

"Then the first girl said to herself—'Gertrude has been growing every year since she left college. She hasn't stood still and rested on her laurels—although she has had plenty of them—one instant. She has just kept on developing. Now, am I doing that? Am I as much better, as a teacher, than I was the first year I left college, as Gertrude is as a musician? Am I a better teacher now than I was two or three years ago?'"

And after she had put this question she wasn't at all sure what the answer ought to be.

Are you growing? Are YOU developing every year? Would anyone, who could understand, be able to see a distinct advance in your proficiency over your standard of two or three years ago?

Are you, each year, a better teacher, a more accurate proof-reader, a more efficient business man, a more gripping preacher? Are you—I've saved this for a separate paragraph, because I know there would be a large class of people who would want to remind me that they did not need my question, because they had neither talent to develop, nor profession or business to master—are you each year a better home-maker, are you each year a more livable member of society?

You, who follow that most humble and yet most exalted profession of home-making, you whose talents are the talents of the soul and character rather than of the brain or fingers, remember that there is just as much technique in home-making as there is in piano playing. Remember that there are just as many graduations, just as vast possibilities for development and improvement in the art of livableness as in the art of painting or writing.

The greatest principle of life is perpetual growth. When anything in the vegetable world ceases to grow it begins to decay.

To a certain extent this is true in the immaterial world, also.

So, if you want to guard yourself and your powers from decay and decline, take the only sure method—keep on growing all the time.

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 50 stamps. ### Fads and Fashions.

Sweater suits for small boys and girls show a basket weave border, which decorates the small toboggan cap, the coat sweater and the leggings.

Nothing is daintier for evening slippers than the buckles and bow-knots of silver or gilt or rhinestones that are shown in such bewildering variety.

Large draped or shirred velvet hats in black or seal brown are smart for afternoon wear. Little trimming appears on these, usually a small aigrette.

White revers on coats are trimmed with two different widths of black velvet ribbon and the hats seen at the European winter resorts show quantities of ribbon.

A single rever of lace with tiny collar and cuffs to match is a pretty finish for the blouse of dark chiffon or lace, and these sets may now be bought in exclusive shops.

Corsage bouquets of orchids, lily of the valley and violets, wonderfully natural, even to the perfume, are being worn to lend a finishing touch of color to the evening gowns.

Paris is using laces, real and imitation, by the quantity, and chantly has returned to its one time favor, when the ex-Empress Eugenie wore it in profusion as scarfs and flouncers.

Short dresses just shown are from six to eight inches wider than they were six months ago. The long panel effects are retained, so are the inset borders or "pleated out" effects that cut into a fabric.

Tulle bands, embroidered in flower designs with heavy linen or cotton thread, attractively trim the hand-tucked blouses of sheer linen. These bands are used instead of insertion of lace or embroidery.

A white cloth trimmed with black velvet shows long sleeves and a bolero of velvet, the latter having a postilion back; belt of velvet in folds, and an overskirt of ruby-red taffeta with a wide opening in front.

In the evening elaborate coiffures are worn and many silver and gold lace bands and caps are worn with full dress and for the theatre. Aigrettes and paradise plumes are now in the hair, but rarely flowers.

Fichus continue to be fashionable. Tulle, either plain or fringed, is the favorite material for making these pretty, cloudlike trimmings. They are used frequently to trim negliges of crepe de chine or soft satin.

Little or no false hair is now the fashion. Pompadours are entirely passé, and parts in the middle or on the side reign supreme. Bars are covered with soft, wavy strands of hair, and the psyche knot is the favorite.

Some colors can be shut out, red cannot be, and it is coming in fast as a dress trimming, hat decoration, etc., not as the entire specimen. Glowing empire red, American beauty, coral pink are all new shades, or others revived, to brighten up black, green, purple, dark blue, brown or gray.

Chiffon and satins are the favorite materials for evening gowns. The heavily spangled gowns have had their day, and where spangles are used at all, it is more in the form of embroidery combined with beads, round and tubular. Tubular fringe is much used, and quantities of gold and silver lace.

Coral brooches, earrings and pendants on gold chains have been revived as cameos, sprays, etc., alone or with diamonds, as the dewdrop in the heart of a rose, or as a tiny beading around a cameo set in knife edge of gold. The light coral is very becoming, but avoid the deep shadings, as this gives a purplish cast to even a fair complexion.

Shot or opalescent chiffon taffeta is taken for odd, little waists covered with chiffon in black, blue, gray, purple shades, etc., and bands of plain satin embroidered with oriental silk and beads introduced as cuffs, tiny yoke, plastron, empiacement, etc., long sleeves with puff at wrist or a large puff at elbow held out by "feather-bone" in balloon style.

"Jimmied" Their Way In.

New York, Jan. 22.—Bent on robbing the safe in the Post Office at New Hyde Park, L. I., thieves jimmed their way into the building. They knew that there was a considerable sum of money in Postmaster Philip J. Miller's safe, and they were "doubtless surprised, after they had blown a safe open, to find nothing, but a few papers and some books. The joke was really on them, as they cracked the wrong safe—the one with the money in it, undisturbed, stood intact in another part of the building when Miller opened the place to-day.

The thieves did not have time to crack the other safe, as they feared the noise they made in blowing the first one might have attracted attention on some books. The joke was really on them, as they cracked the wrong safe—the one with the money in it, undisturbed, stood intact in another part of the building when Miller opened the place to-day.

The safe they blew belonged to John Wenoske, a grocer, who occupied part of the building, and was used by him to protect his books and papers.

108 Nox a Cold in One Day

108 is the number of a prescription by an eminent doctor, and it cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Sore Throat. Try it. 25 cents a bottle at McMurdo & Co.

The history of the world shows that justice has never been done without revolution.—Dr. Clifford.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM. This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same: the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vitality.

VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-reviving tonic.

THERAPION No. 3 than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored.

The EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE and a new existence imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out, "used up," and valueless. This wonderful medicine is purely vegetable and innocuous, is agreeable to the taste—suitable for all constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or derangement, whose main features are those of debility, that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread and numerous class of human ailments.

THERAPION (the principal chemical throughout the world). Price in England, 5 and 48. Purchasers should see that the word "THERAPION" appears on British Government Printing and Letters on a red ground affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Colonial Offices, and without which it is a forgery.

THERAPION may now also be obtained in DRUGS (Tasteless) Form.
