Wooden bags are the latest novelty, and some of them are ornamented with French knots.

A few jackets are made of contrasting materials; for instance, of golden brown silk velvet over navy taffeta.

For infant dress effects the filmy stuffs are, of course, chosen; for long-line draperies, velvet and other firm fabrics are best.

Interesting Notes From Western America

Rev. Dr. Ridout Writes From Colorado.

We are writing these lines in Colorado, one of those charming Western States, made famous by its canons, mountains, peaks, waterfalls and gold mines. The altitude here is 3,500 feet above sea level; the air is pure; the breezes are freighted with ozone and the country round about one vast stretch of ranches and farms upon which countless thousands of cattle are being raised.

In a world so full of the noise of bloody conflict and Europe bleeding at every pore it would seem that America was providentially chosen to be a house of refuge for the distressed, a land of liberty and plenty for the oppressed, the hungry, and the sad; and no doubt after the war is over, teeming multitudes will be crossing the seas for the United States and Canada—the lands of the free and the homes of the brave!

Strange it may appear, but how singularly true that the West has always been the land far off towards which all the ideals of Mythology, Romance and Poetry have turned. Homer sang of the Elysian Fields—the abode of supreme happiness as being in the West—out there in the land of the unsetting sun where Apollo stabled his horses at eventide. Odysseus went to talk with the spirits of the departed, and Virgil led Æneas out into the West to see the spirits of the dead heroes basking in eternal sunshine; and the Norsemen in their legends tell of the long ship upon which they laid the body of the dead chieftain and they hoisted the great sail and mid flaming torches sent the ship out upon the trackless ocean to find its harbor where Odin waited to welcome the spirit of the warrior in Valhalla's halls.

In the Western States there are some wonderful developments taking place and wealth are to be seen on all hands. The thing possibly that led the hosts Westward in the long ago were the "gold diggings" of California in 1849. The finding of gold there came about in many unusual ways. The stories which come up from that age are amazing. A gold digger died of starvation; his partner in digging his grave turned up a nugget of pure gold worth $40,000. A tramp unable to pay his fare was put off one of the wagon trains; he wandered across the fields and stumbled over a nugget of gold worth $2,500. A man died a pauper the other day in one of the Colorado cities who discovered gold which brought him $100,000. He squandered it all, and one of the most valuable gold mining claims near Colorado Springs the original owner sold for a few dollars and some whisky.

The United States just now are engaged in a most intense Presidential political campaign. The issue is between Wilson the Democrat, and Hughes the Republican. The two men are so singularly alike in magnificent Christian manhood and character that it is hard to make a choice. I have had the good fortune of knowing and meeting President Wilson personally. He was Governor of the State of New Jersey with the State House at Trenton when I was Pastor of the Wesley Church in that city. On two occasions I met him in his office to discuss some Temperance legislation. I knew him also at Princeton University when he was President of that institution. I have heard him speak at great religious gatherings. He is a great believer in the Old Bible—not the Bible of the Higher Critics, mark you!

Mr. Hughes the Republican nominee who wants to succeed Wilson at the White House, is the son of a Baptist preacher. When Mr. Hughes was Governor of New York State he cleaned out the gamblers and did some moral marvels. Mr. Wilson when he was Governor of New Jersey also cleaned up the State, so the both men are men of tremendous moral power as well as capable and tried men of affairs.

There will be a strong pull made to return President Wilson to the White House for four years more. He has had a most notable career as President. He has had the stormiest time of any man since the days of Abraham Lincoln. The Nation came very close to a war with Germany and Mexico but Wilson's steady hand averted the clash.

The United States as a Nation does not want war. Some people deeply interested in business in Mexico would like to see a war with the hope of getting Mexico under the American flag, but it is not likely to occur, though I believe for the sake of humanity, civilization, education and religion it would be the best thing possible to have the U. S. A. take Mexico under her wing just as she did Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

As for the European War the United States stands for the Allies. They believe the Allies are going to win and deserve to win. Germany and the unspeakable Kaiser get little sympathy among the Americans. The Press everywhere have no good words for the Germans—excepting, of course, the German-American sheets. We believe German Militarism, the menace of Europe and the world, has got to be completely wiped out and for that reason American manufacturers feel they can with clear consciences make munitions for the Allies. It is frightful in this age of the Christian religion that things have got to be settled by bullets, instead of prayers, but if nothing but bullets will put the hell-born "German Kultur" down and out it will have to go that way.

Our summer has been one of extensive travel and preaching. We shall have covered probably over 6,000 miles this summer. We have preached the Gospel in the States of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Indiana, Iowa, Colorado and Nebraska and we have found the same old Gospel that we heard in the years ago from the fire-touched lips of Revs. George J. Bond, T. H. James, George Boyd, James Vater, Job Shenton, H. P. Cowperthwaite and others in the same effective Gospel for this day. The preachers who are preaching Higher Criticism, The New Theology, New Thought Philosophy, Sociology, and doctrines without the Blood of the Atonement and the Holy Ghost power are not doing much in leading a sin-cursed humanity to a Mighty Christ. We have crowds of preachers in our country to-day who never know what it is to see a sinner converted under their ministry—the reason is they have taken hold of a wrong Gospel. The old, old Gospel under which we were converted, as Rev. George J. Bond preached it in Cochran Street Church over thirty years ago when scores of people got converted in the good old way of repentance and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, is what the Church and the World needs to-day.

Well, I have been too long. I must close. Next week I hasten back to take up my duties for another year at Taylor University where hundreds of young people from all parts of the world come for their training, where the old-time religion obtains as well as educational standards.

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."

Zylex, 50c. a box; Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

A Gruesome Find Who Can It Be?

Magistrate McDonnell of St. George's wired to Deputy Minister of Justice Hutchings last night as follows:—

"William Sheppard of St. George's reports to-day that he found the skeleton of a man and the following effects: a gun, watch, knife, pipe and boots, seventeen miles inland from George's Pond. The skeleton was that of a tall man, and had evidently been there for many years."

From the tenor of the message it is evident that the remains were that of some sportsman or guide who lost his life some years ago while in the interior. It is also apparent that he was alone at the time. However, the question suggests itself as to who can it be? "Some West Coast resident, particularly in the vicinity of St. George's, may be best able to solve the mystery."

A Paris Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair.

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery. It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-sought-for article is proven every day.

The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale. This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant dressing, and is sold by your druggist. A large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50 cents.

Had Narrow Escape.

During the progress of the fire at the house of Mr. Eric Bowring, on Rennie's Mill Road, yesterday, Miss Constance Fox had a very narrow escape. The fire was eating up through the partitions and frame of the building and it was difficult to get at it. The firemen were chopping away some woodwork on a top flat, while Miss Fox was in the flat underneath trying to save some valuables. Suddenly a large piece of plaster fell from the ceiling. Luckily she was pulled out of the way in the nick of time by a reserve fireman. The plaster was coming straight for her and dropped exactly where she stood. Had it struck her on the head she would doubtless have been seriously injured.

Humber, O'Dulce.

Written When Crossing the Humber River.

P. J. KINSELLA.
O'Dulce, O'Dulce I have seen it—Grand glorious sight it was—Ripples azure by the parting ray Turned golden like—as if themselves period Of myriad scintillation of God of day And peaceful was the eve, and too the scene, O'Dulce, thus I saw, the Sun-God play.

Small quarrelous ripples—Anon—a streak unbroken Of silver glowing fluid—and then again A murmur where the eddies broke, O'Dulce, bless the eve and too the scene Where Nature in her mystic voice had spoke,

The soul if not the heart saw more Beneath the surface—read, and if not true, Chide moral taught, though perhaps redeemed those lines.

That in serene lives uneven strife And too, opposing life, to all issue, For not the most, the best, the happiest life Is always free of such predestined blight.

O'Dulce, I have known this thought—Thou has brought much bliss and peace to me, Hours made happy—nor love depart. But I have known midst streak unbroken

A lute astray, whereof the calm had broke, Though God-like was the whole, and too the heart, Where Nature always mystical had spoke.

God bless the Humber, Hidden from the ken (Even in thy peace)—of moral stain, God's image always shining on thy breast.

Oh, who am I, that I should break thy rest And make thee subject for some Muse Refrain?

O'Dulce, I have seen in Eve's decline Thy ripples azure by the parting ray, And peaceful was that eve, and too the scene

O Humber, thus I saw the Sun God play, God bless thee shining River Subject of a poor poet's lay.

Once upon a time there was a child That never had its picture taken. That was its parents' fault.

Once upon a time there was a young man who never had his picture taken. That was his fault.

Once upon a time there was a dear old Mother who never had her picture taken. That was her children's fault.

If it's YOUR fault, if your friends Haven't YOUR picture, Portraits portray life history. They are a necessity.

Citizen's Committee.

The Citizens' Committee met in the Board of Trade Rooms last night, Vice-Chairman W. A. O'D. Kelly presiding. The meeting opened at 8:30, fourteen members being present. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting which were adopted after much discussion. At the request of one of the members, who strongly opposed the plebiscite on the Ward System with the extra cost to the city, the Secretary read the following extract from the minutes of a previous meeting:—

"A resolution was forwarded the Premier in April last in which the Citizens' Committee asked that the plebiscite on the Ward System be taken at the same time as the election for Mayor and Councillors in June."

The Secretary was ordered to write a letter to the press further expressing their opinion on the matter.

Discussion on the new Bill was then commenced. Section 120, in relation to the turning off of water for taxes due the city was amended; the time shall read twelve months instead of six.

Section 130, dealing with the construction and repairs of sidewalks, in which property owners have to contribute one-half the cost, was passed by a small majority, it being their opinion that people desiring concrete sidewalks are the fittest persons to pay for them.

The snow trouble on Water Street also came in for much discussion. Packing cases, boxes, etc., deposited on sidewalks and obstructing free passage should be removed. The meeting adjourned at 10:35 and will meet again next Monday.

RETURNED HOME.—Mr. J. W. Morris, Sup. of the R. N. Co.'s electrical department, in company with Mrs. Morris, arrived by yesterday's express from Canada, where Mr. Morris was recuperating from a severe illness.
