

Church Lads' Brigade.

The Brigade paraded as usual at 8 p.m. with Lt. Col. R. F. Goodridge in command and Major Riley, M. C. Adjutant and the following officers were present, Major Williams, Quartermaster, Captain Outerbridge, Lieut. Phil Rendell, A. S. Lewis, Miles, R. G. Ash, (Paymaster). The prizes won by the lads at the "Peace Camp" were distributed to the winners by the Colonel Commanding after the drill exercises were finished. The Brigade is entering on a new avenue of activity and the new Adjutant is putting things in good shape on army lines. A new office for Lt. Col. Goodridge and the Adjutant's business is being arranged for so that all executive affairs can be attended to without any interruption. The Battalion next week commences its Fall and Winter programme by having two parades a week (drill order), Tuesdays and Thursdays at 8 p.m. sharp. Orders for the week ending Sept. 18th are as follows:—Orderly Officer, Lieut. Fletcher, and Section 3, P. Co., Chaplain Rev. Arthur Stirling, M.A., Bugler Roberts, Battalion Orderly Sgt. Corp. Hooker, Lance Corporal Berg—the famous veteran of the Quartermaster's Dept., has been promoted as Orderly Officer in charge of the new business office. The Brigade regrets to hear of the illness of Bandman Lance Corp. C. Vavasour, who is compelled to apply for six months' leave of absence. After last night's parade the Officer's Mess held their Sept. meeting, and were glad to see Lieut. Colley of C. Co. present, representing Fild Col. Companies, as well as Rev. Capt. Pike. Many important matters were discussed, including the purchase of the Frontiersmen's Hall, built adjoining the Armoury. The Band Thursday night were busy at Victoria Park, and honored the occasion by appearing in their new brass buttoned blue overcoats, which are quite an addition to their uniform and we congratulate Bandmaster Morris for financing the enormous cost of the outfitting. An advance copy of August "Brigade," published in London, contains on the cover the photographs of the late Bishop Jones, Bishop White, R. G. Rendell, Esq., C.B.E., formerly Lieut. Col. of Avalon Battalion, Lieut. Col. Goodridge and Lieut. Col. Bernard, M.C., of the Royal Nfld. Regt., formerly a C.L.B. Officer, who led the Royal Nfld. Regt. into Germany. "The Brigade" has also an editorial in which it congratulates the C.L.B. in Nfld. generally, and refers to the Newfoundland Battalion's Armoury, built by the former Lt. Col. R. G. Rendell, and dedicated by the late Mrs. R. G. Rendell and other kind contributing friends, as being the largest Armoury owned by the C.L.B. in the world. Well done, Newfoundland. "Better than best" once more! And it only goes to make prominent the fact that officers and lads must lose no time or waste idle moments, but do all they can to maintain their reputation. The Educational class, under Lieut. Emerson, was "going strong" again, having some new members, whilst the Old Comrades are having new members every meeting, and are arranging a "big dance" shortly to celebrate the "Peace" of 1919, so gloriously won, and in which many of the C.L.B. Old Comrades did their part.

Sunday week the Battalion will march in full strength, Old Comrades included, to St. Thomas's Church for Divine Service.

Reporter Leaves "Telegram."

Mr. Garland B. Rogers, for several months on the reporter staff of this paper, resigned his position to-day. He will proceed to Boston within a few days, where he intends to remain in future. Mr. Rogers, who is a returned soldier of the Royal Newfoundland, has proven himself to be a hard and clever worker during his connection with the Telegram, and the other members of the staff will be sorry to see him go. However, the call from the land of the stars and stripes has proved irresistible to him, and he must needs obey. The Telegram extends the wish that he will be just as successful in his new life as in the one he is now vacating.

Wedding Bells.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at Cochrane Street Parsonage, the contracting parties being Miss Maria Kennedy and Mr. W. J. Reid (ex-Reservist). The officiating minister was Rev. Mr. Wilson. The couple were ably supported by Miss Ella Nichol and B. H. Butler (ex-Reservist). The bride was handsomely gowned in pink silk with a sash and hat to match. After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's brother, Scott Street, where a very enjoyable evening was spent. The bride was the recipient of many valuable presents. The happy couple are to leave by s.s. Prospero for Canada their future home.

Our "HOT DRINKS," so eagerly inquired for by our patrons, are now ready at THE BLUE PUTTEE.—Sept. 13.

The Market.

Cod Liver Oil—There has been some conflicting prices quoted on local market but $2.00 per gallon is the regular price paid by the largest buyers.

Codfish—No. 1 Merchantable Shore Fish has sold on local market for $12 per cwt., but many of the principal buyers indicate a considerable reduction as soon as sufficient quantity is received to complete a few small orders.

Pork—There is not much change in the high pork market. Ham But is scarce and is still quoted at top figures. Fatback shows some weakness in quotations to arrive but the general strength in the market suggests a continuation of high prices during the fall months.

Molasses—The importations are over one thousand puncheons short of last year and with the great shortage of sugar we are certain to see lively times before long. Forced sales were made at 90c., but for the best quality of Honest Molasses 35c. is easily obtained. We predict a move up in this article before very long.

Beef—The better grades of Beef such as Special Family, Special Plate, etc., are holding firm. There has been a considerable decline, however, in Boneless Beef. The latter grade is largely influenced in its price movements by the fact that the principal outlet is the Newfoundland market and fluctuations there may be said to be caused by the dullness or briskness of the Newfoundland demand. Recent wholesale quotations for Boneless are $16.00 to $18.50 per cwt. The high grades are $48.00 to $49.00.

Sugar—The temporary shortage of granulated sugar will be relieved by a total of 5,750 barrels for which contracts have been made and confirmed, with a safe assurance of another 2,500 barrels to follow, all of which will be available for September and October distribution here. Some importers who "missed the market" are accentuating the shortage, and such propaganda always tends to encourage hoarding, thereby creating a situation which eventually brings about an acute position where none should exist. The next direct Montreal boat leaving there about the 20th inst. brings about 1,500 bbls. granulated sugar. The wholesale prices on next lots in will be $16.00 to $16.50 per 100 lbs.

Cod Oil—Receipts of oil on local market have been quite liberal. It is plain to all that unless advance very soon in New York that we must have a reaction in St. John's as present prices show a loss instead of a legitimate profit to those exporting this oil. We quote $250 per ton as the regular market value although we know of sales made at higher prices. Flour—The Manitoba wheat crop was nearly all cut by the first of September. The mills have already started grinding the new wheat and shipments will be more liberal after this as the stocks of old wheat were very limited. The Canadian Wheat Board have fixed prices. The Ontario winter wheat flour will be 50 cents per barrel cheaper than the Manitoba hard wheat flours. Prices to the trade are unchanged for highest grade flour but it is reported that some mills are quoting a little less which competitors say must be a cut on the quality. Everything points to present prices being continued for another year. Highest grades Manitoba flour $14.50 to $15.00, but war grade flours are offered considerably cheaper.

FREIGHT RATES.

The high rates of freight asked by sailing vessels still continues. It makes the c.i.f. price to foreign markets very expensive. There is a great scarcity of Danish and other foreign vessels seeking freight on this market, and they are dying out fast. The day of the sailing vessel or the old "wind jammer" is approaching an end. The high freights asked will develop steam tonnage very quickly now that the war is over.—Trade Review.

Cleopatra's Needle Finally Erected.

On Thursday, September 12, 1878, Cleopatra's Needle, as it is called, an object of attention to strangers passing in London, was successfully raised upon its pedestal, on the Thames Embankment, between Charing Cross and Waterloo Bridges. This was done in the presence of a great crowd, as it required much engineering skill, for it weighed more than 186 tons, and is in height, from base to point, nearly 68½ feet. Next day it was completely fixed and was handed over to the care of the Metropolitan Board of Works (since succeeded by the London County Council, by an Act of Parliament passed on July 22 that year. It was at the sole expense of Sir William James Erasmus Wilson, a surgeon distinguished as to skin diseases that the "Needle" had been brought from Egypt to England, and he was therefore knighted in 1881. He died in 1884, at seventy-four years of age. It had been brought to England with great difficulty, having long remained embedded in the shore of Alexandria, the Egyptian capital—even when that city had been acquired in 1801 by General Abercromby, to which it had been removed by Augustus, the first Roman Emperor, about B.C. 23. When on the way to England, the vessel containing it was abandoned in a violent gale, but was subsequently towed to Ferrol, a seaport on the north-west corner of Spain, and arrived at London on January 30, 1878. Julius Caesar, Dictator of Rome, the first Roman invader of England, entered Egypt in search for Pompey, his rival, and was so struck by the youthful charms of Cleopatra, joint-heir to the crown, that he proclaimed her his queen, and brought her to Rome, where she had one son by him, and, after his assassination, several children by his comrade in government, Mark Antony. But she determined not to be a prisoner of Augustus, their rival, and therefore applied to her art a serpent, or horned snake, which abounds in Egypt, by the bite of which she died immediately. In B.C. 50, aged 39.

To-day's Messages.

UNION OF WORKERS A DELUSION.

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—At the Trade Union Congress, J. H. Thomas, the railway mens leader, presented a motion that the Government repeal the conscription act, and asking that British troops be immediately withdrawn from Russia, falling which a special trade union congress will be called to decide what action should be taken. J. R. Clynes, in a striking speech against direct action, declared it would result in the breaking of the workmen's heads and the women's hearts. Mr. Clynes declared that the belief that the working class was united was a delusion. Terrorism was not Government, and labor was just beginning to learn how to govern. He begged them not to challenge the existence of the State, and claim the right to class dictatorship. "Others won't be driven any more than you," he ended, amidst cheers.

FREEDOM AND PROTECTION.

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Lord French, speaking at Belfast and referring to recent murders of policemen and soldiers in Ireland, denounced them as "Unspeakable Villany" and "Dastardly Murders." He declared that the Irish Government's only policy was to secure to all law abiding subjects freedom and protection. In fulfillment of this, the Government would not shrink from adopting drastic measures, if necessary.

PARLIAMENT OF LABOR.

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The Trades Union Congress has adopted a resolution favoring direct taxation of land values, nationalization of banking, and a determined effort to force all non-unionists to join unions. It has also adopted a resolution in favor of the formation of "a real Industrial Parliament of Labor, whereby the Trades Unions would adopt a common policy on all questions of national or international importance." The resolution advocating the amalgamation of all trades into one big union was voted down.

GOLD MOVING.

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—It is understood that four and one half million pounds, in German gold, have reached the bank of England, some of which, it is believed, is already enroute to Canada in payment for foodstuffs sent to Germany. "Much interest has been created in the city by the arrival of South African gold, which will be offered for sale next week.

RAIDING SINN FEIN RESORTS.

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Reuter's).—Military and police to-day raided Sinn Fein headquarters in Dublin, and detained two Sinn Fein members of the House of Commons. All the Sinn Fein members' houses were searched, and were similarly visited. Armed police, this morning, raided the offices of the newspapers and many homes of Sinn Fein members. The police and military also raided several Sinn Fein clubs in Cork to-day. The police, who were armed with carbines and revolvers, made an exhaustive search, while soldiers with fixed bayonets stood on guard outside.

The Country's Appreciation.

We naturally love our native land, whether we have done much in the way of promoting her interest or not. The very fact that it is the land of our birth goes far to stimulate in us a desire to love our country. But to those of us who saw our country's need when the dark clouds of war gathered around her, threatening to molest her honor and impede her progress along the road of righteousness and freedom, and who answered to the same, alone can fully understand what a true patriot really is. He has proved that it is something more than merely upholding the ideals of a country when it is easy to do so. To place one's self at the disposal of one's country, to endure untold hardship, to spend day and night in weariness and pain, to suffer hunger and thirst and all for the love of one's country is a noble thing, and one which, I believe, that those who fail to recognize will some day live to regret that they did not show their gratitude, as they should, to those who counted nothing too dear to sacrifice for the land that gave them birth. Only those that passed through the awful turmoil of war can fully appreciate the blessings that have come to the country by the return of peace. We come back to our homes expecting to find our country ready to receive us in the spirit of gratitude, and willing to help us in every possible way; but, alas, we find that our hopes have not found our country so openhearted as we thought we would and consequently many of us are taking advantage of the chance given us in other lands, though it seems hardly fair on the part of those responsible that we should have to do so. Such is the case, however. But there is a day of reckoning coming and Newfoundland will find that she can ill afford to lose the men that upheld her honor in the hour of her need.

C.P.F.

C.P.F.

Do you know

why it is that eight out of every ten smokers buying pipes at our store insist on having the C.P.F. brand? Let us tell you—C.P.F. pipes have a world-wide reputation, the manufacturers are proud of this fact, which has been gained by constant attention to the many details connected with pipe making.

Every C.P.F. pipe is carefully inspected and no imperfection, however small, is allowed to pass in any of the C.P.F. regular pipes. Particular attention is given to the polishing and finishing—then again the guarantee that stands behind every C.P.F. pipe is proof that the manufacturers want to give the pipe user the best it's possible to obtain in the different grades made.

If you are needing a new pipe, come in and see us, we shall be pleased to show you a full range of C.P.F. pipes. Price from 60c. up.
