Vatican's Rupture With France.
Paris, April 10.—The Matin yesterday printed a despatch from Rome, giving an interview there with Cardinai Merry del Val, papal secretary of state, in which the cardinal declares that the Vatican was not responsible for the rupture of relations between France and the Vatican. He says that he considers the abolition of the concordat an incalculable misfortune to France and to Rome, and that Pope Plus strengly desired a reconcillation. The Charaber of Deputies last night, by an imposing majority, voted that it was need sary

Royal Night Bodyguards For more than 400 years a body men known as the Monteros de Espinosa have enjoyed the exclusive privilege of watching over the slum-bers of the kings and queens of Spain. They are bound by tradition to be na-tives of Espinosa and to have served with distinction in the army. One of these is on guard at the door of the bedroom of each royal personage in the palace, and the others, armed with huge halberds and wearing felt soled shoes, tread silently all through the night along the corridors and halls.

Their service begins at midnight and ceases at 7 in the morning. An east side kindergartner was about to give her class a lesson, with "The Kitten" as the subject. She began by saying: "Our lesson this morning will be all about the kitten. Now, can any little boy or girl tell me which grows on the kitten, fur or feathers?" A dead silence followed for a minute, when one little boy said in a loud voice: "G-o-o-d gracious! Hain't you never seen a kitten?"

BRITAIN HAS SURPLUS

Revenue For 1904 Exceeded the Expenditures By $15.000,000.

duced $37,790,000, and at the close of the year stood at $3,775,360,000.

Dealing with the finances of the year, Mr. Chamberlain estimated the expenditure for 1985-6 at $705.140,000, and the revenue on the existing basis of taxation at $720,020,000, leaving a surplus of $14,860,000. The surplus at his disposal from last year, Mr. Chamberlain said, was small, but he had no doubt regarding what had the first claim on the country's resources.

lain said, was small, but he had no doubt regarding what had the first claim on the country's resources.

The first thing to do was to restore the national credit. He proposed that $5,000,000 should be added to the fixed debt charge to create a sinking fund for $50,000,000 in treasury bonds falling due in December, and which he proposed to re-issue as new bonds for ten years, with the condition that one-tenth be drawn and repaid each year. This disposed of $5,000,000 of his surplus.

Contribution From Transvaal.

Incidentally the Canacellor of the Exchequer said he hoped that the first instalment of the $150,000,000 of the war contribution promised by the Transvaal would be available in 1906. In the meanwhile repayments from the Transvaal on account of railroad works and sales of stores, they other with the sinking fund at the Government's disposal, would wipe out $20,000,000 of the treasury bonds out of the $74,000,000 due in December. He nad already stated how he proposed to deal with the remaining $50,000,000.

Cannot Help Income Taxpayer.

The new recommendation of the Chancelor of the Exchequer were dismissed in a few words. Mr. Chamberlain regretted he was unable to relieve the incerne taxpayer as the cost of reducing the tax by two cents would be $11,100,000, and he had not the necess 311,100,000, and he had not the necessary money. He proposed to take off July 1 the extra duty of four cents per pound put on tea last year, which would absorb 37,750,000; to clear away the remainder of the customs warehousing charges, which were an annoyance to charges, which were an annoyance to traders without substantially increas-ing the revenue, and to abolish certain small stamp duties, leaving $2,110,000 to meet contingencies. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the House, congratu-

He blamed the Premier for not making any direct statement of his policy. The only object of Mr. Chamberlain's with which he could sympathize was that to strengthen the bonds of the Empire. He feared, however, the effect would be the reverse.

Viscount Goschen denounced Mr. Balfour's policy of evasion with regard to the fiscal question in the House of Commons They might blame the leader who wrecked his party, but still greater condemnation would be passed on the leader who wrecked the reputation of the House of Commons.

Hindoo Nose Key.

"It is considered an insult and ex-tremely indelicate in India to refer to a woman's nose ring, but so many ask me, 'What is that flower they hold in their mouth?' that I must tell what I is the badge of wifehood, even more sacred than our wedding ring-set always with the costliest and most beautiful jewels a woman possesses and the last she will part with. A ruby with two pearls is the favorite, as symbolizing a heart between two guardians of purity. This is somewhat going out of fashion under English in-fluence. The Somaji ladies and Zoroastrian sisters do not wear them, but every orthodox Hindoo woman has her pak chabi, or 'nose key,' as it is also called, usually two, one of precious jewels and costly pearls; the other a little plain gold safety pin, which is slipped in just as the great circle is being drawn out, for the nose must never for a moment be left free."-Jewel Crafts of India.
