One Thousand Dollars Worth of Diamonds Nearly Thrown Away.

It Cost the Lady Who Lost Them $300 to Recover Her Sparklers.

New York, Feb. 19.—James Lovett, of Newark, who is now in the city, is authority for a remarkable diamond story. There seems to be no doubt of its truth, but the heroine, who is well known in New York, feels so mortified concerning it that her name is withheld.

It appears that one day last week the lady in question, who is very particular about her jewels, took out her diamonds to clean them. When she finished, she replaced the jewelry in a pasteboard box and then ordered her servant girl to clean off the table and throw the debris into the waste box. The lady missed her diamonds later in the day, and suspected the servant girl of stealing them. They were worth $1,000. She sent for a detective, who made a close examination, during which she remembered that she had left the box full of diamonds on the table with the cleansing powder and she swept all up, and threw everything into the ashbin. The janitor of the apartment house was called, and he said the ash collector had been around and carried off the contents of the bin.

The lady of the diamonds hurriedly summoned some influential friends, and they got into communication with Superintendent Waring of the street cleaning department. Through him they learned that the ashes and garbage collected in this neighborhood were dumped on garage scow No. 6,714, and that it was about to start on its way down the bay to sink its load.

Appeals were made and rewards offered for the detection of the thief. Then the lady, her servant and her influential friends went to the dock where the scow was moored, and started the scavengers hunting through the tons of garbage for the missing jewels, and finally the box was found with the gems just as the lady left them. Their recovery cost her about $200.

The New G. T. R. General Superintendent's Career—Began as a Water Boy—Plans for the Future.

Montreal, Feb. 19.—Mr. F. H. McGuigan, the new general superintendent, gives some interesting particulars concerning his railway career, and the result of his inspection of the line. He was an official fine specimen of manhood. Standing considerably over six feet. He was born at Cleveland, Ohio, 46 years ago, while his father was engaged in building the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railway. He commenced his railway career at the age of 13, as a water boy on the Erie and Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania Railway, gradually working his way up, until in 1874 he had reached the position of roadmaster. After 17 years of service with the Pennsylvania Railway he left that company, becoming on April 19, 1890, foreman of a construction train on the St. Louis and Omaha division of the Wabash Railway.

The Western Fair.

Annual Meeting of the Association Held This Afternoon.

The Encouraging Remarks Contained in the Directors' Report.

The Receipts and Expenditures—The Fair Self-Supporting—The Disastrous Fire—Unsuitable Accommodations—Popularity of the Exhibition.

The annual meeting of the Western Fair Association was held in the board rooms, Richmond street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the president, Mr. A. W. Porte, in the chair.

THE DIRECTORS' REPORT.
The annual report of the directors was presented by Secretary Browne. It contained an interesting review of the work of the association during the past year, and many other matters of general importance. The report read as follows:

"The directors are pleased, in presenting their ninth annual report, to be in a position to state that the Western Fair of 1895 was again self-supporting, and that we have been able to add a small amount to the cash balance in the bank, a result which will be very gratifying to all of us under the circumstances with which we have had to contend.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.
"As you are aware, a disastrous fire occurred on the evening of the opening day of the exhibition, by which we lost our fine carriage building, and perhaps the best poultry building in Canada, all the exhibits being removed without damage, and to supply them we have had a serious inconvenience caused considerable expense and no little disarrangement to them. Large tents were procured to cover the exhibits of these departments, and with a promptness that saved us from what might have been a serious inconvenience. We are glad to know that appreciation of our effort found expression from each and every exhibitor.

"Unfortunately we could not keep reports from being circulated, and, near by, the outside press, and in some instances of a very damaging character to the success of the exhibition, and which, no doubt, prevented some from attending. The effects of these reports were somewhat serious, but by the city press, who did all in their power through the associated dispatches and in their own columns to state the facts.

UNSATISFACTORY ACCOMMODATIONS.
"We have, as many short notices, been working at a disadvantage in having to be satisfied with the inadequate and unsuitable accommodations for the live stock exhibits. While these buildings were fairly satisfactory they were not adequate for the requirements, as well as the decay of years, has made them unfit for further use, and prevents the natural increase looked for in these departments.

"This, we are thankful to say, will soon be obviated, owing to the interest felt in the Western Fair by the City Council and the citizens of London in general, who have manifested their appreciation of the efforts to the benefit which accrue to the city from holding these exhibitions, by voting that $25,000 be expended during this present year on the re-erection of the live stock buildings, and the purchase of new horse and cattle barns, sheep and swine pens, and the rearrangement of some of the other buildings, according to a plan of location prepared by our secretary and approved by the board.

THE NEW BUILDINGS.
"The city engineer has been asked to prepare plans of the buildings, and as soon as possible tenders will be called for and the work commenced. The Western Fair of 1895, and the exhibition of 1896, and we feel sure this action will result in increased usefulness of the Fair, and give greater comfort to both exhibitors and their exhibits in those departments.

"The revenue from the Fair is in advance of any previous one in many respects. Never in the history of the Fair were the entry fees from the halls as large, nor the exhibits of better quality, or finer arrangement, as in the present year. The main building, where a large number of excellent displays and the entirely different arrangement of the department added greatly to the general effect. The agricultural and horticultural buildings were filled with a superior class and number of exhibits. The exhibition of horses was a great improvement on 1894, both in number of animals and quality, and many sales were reported to have taken place. The live stock exhibits were of the very highest order of merit. The addition of a separate class for the Guernsey cattle, and Duroc-Jersey swine, brought out a pair display of these animals, and a fine show, for which the Western Fair is noted, was not quite as large as formerly, owing to the burning of the building.

THE EXHIBITION IS POPULAR.
"The best evidence of the popularity of the Western Fair is shown by the fact that we still enjoy the patronage of the public, the receipts from the gates and grand stands being larger by over $400 than those of 1894, and with the new buildings and better accommodations, the future prospects are very bright and encouraging, and we trust that our successors in office may be able to add to the prestige already attained.

"The revenue from booths and privileges shows a decrease of nearly $500. This is largely accounted for by the desire on the part of the directors to lessen the number and keep out all objectionable revenue from the amusement hall, which was utilized as temporary quarters for the carriages, as was one of the large dining halls.

"Your attention is called to the absence of the association's popularity, financial statement, not from lack of sympathy on the part of the subscribers of former years, who always gave cheerfully and liberally of their means when requested to do so, but because the directors decided to discontinue this practice as long as the Fair can be managed without it.

HEARTY CO-OPERATION.
"Your directors wish to acknowledge the hearty co-operation of the City Council and water commissioners, the railway and express companies, the managers and officials; also the breeders, agriculturists and manufacturers for their continued patronage and their manifest desire to keep the Western Fair in the front as a live stock and agricultural exhibition. "Nor do we wish to forget the oft-repeated kindness of those individuals and societies who so liberally contribute of their money towards the handsome special prizes.

"To the press of the city and Province who so ably assist, our thanks are also due.

"The officers and caretaker of the association have performed their duties in a very satisfactory manner, and we wish to place the same on record."

THORNDALE.
"Advertiser" Agent, F. W. McCulloch. Thorndale, Feb. 18.—A pleasant event took place here last evening, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Beatrice Logan to Mr. Joshua Moore, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Wm. Logan. The Rev. Mr. Jeannette was the officiating clergyman. Miss F. Holland, of London, is visiting friends here.

Rev. E. M. Scott delivered a lecture on "Astronomy." To assist present the evening of the 16th inst., the Rev. Mr. A very pleasant time was spent at the residence of Mr. Thomas Holland took part in enjoyments.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Bryan have returned from their honeymoon. Miss Nellie Brydges, of London, is visiting friends here.

LAKE SHORE.
Lake Shore, Feb. 18.—"They carried pie to the parish house. On the evening of the 16th inst., the Congregationalists of Lake Shore held a very pleasant social at the home of their pastor in Forest—successful in every way. All were invited and no admission fee was exacted by the excellent programme and the delicious refreshments freely served so filled the company with generous impulses that the plate had to be passed in order that people might express themselves which they did by placing therein $15.35. Mr. Richard Macklin presided in his always happy style, as chairman. The Congregational choir of Forest and Lake Shore were in attendance and rendered songs by Leslie Kinzie and Will Scott, which were much appreciated by old and young. A good recitation was given by Miss Livingston. "Guilty or Not Guilty," also another by Miss Duncan White, who delights in Scottish literature; it was entitled "Islands of the Scots," and pleased all. The speech of the evening, however, was given by Mr. Richard Stitt. Dr. Hindle, of Forest, also gave a very profitable and highly interesting lecture on "Church Music." The company broke up about 11 o'clock with a satisfied feeling, and a good hope that the organ fund will surely be able to meet liabilities by October.

The Baptists of Forest and the Methodists of Lake Shore, Bosanquet, seem unusually friendly, judging by the great number of societies they are holding this season. The latest is a necktie social, to be held soon at the home of E. James for the organ fund of the Methodists of Lake Shore.

John Chamberlain and his bride (nee Miss Mary Dunsmuir) are honeymooning in London and vicinity this week, and will take up house-keeping on the Lake Shore next week.

FOREST.
Forest, Feb. 19.—One of the best equipped flour mills in this section of the country is that owned by Neil McCall and Co., who some three years since were unfortunately burned out. In place of the old building, the energetic firm have erected a fine three story brick structure, furnished with the very latest machinery, driven by a Wheelock engine, which is a model of neatness. The plant was built by the N. A. M. Company, of Stratford, and is capable of turning out 125 barrels of flour per day. Every attention is paid to the comfort of employees. The dust, so noticeable in the majority of mills, is entirely absent, the cyclone collectors doing their work very thoroughly, and rendering the air perfectly pure. This well known firm ship large quantities of their standard products to the Maritime Provinces. In addition to possessing model mill machinery, which they are able to supply, the output, the facilities for shipping are such as are possessed by few firms, and render the handling of immense quantities of produce comparatively easy.

Webster, the popular host of the Franklin House, is surprising his many friends by the fast time he is making on skates. In Lucan the other night he carried off first prize in a mile race, easily defeating De Lons, of Hensall, who has quite a record. A large number entered, but only a few could keep the swift pace set by the flyers. The Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario will hold a district dairy-men's convention in the town hall on Wednesday, Feb. 28.

LOBO.
Lobo, Feb. 19.—The annual meeting of the Lobo branch of the Liberal Association, was held in the town hall, Coldstream, on Saturday evening last and there was an unusually large attendance on the occasion. In the absence of the president, Dugald McArthur, Peter A. Graham, first vice, occupied the chair. The following officers were elected: President, Peter A. Graham; 1st vice, D. Fraser; 2nd vice, John Oliver; secretary, H. W. Harris; treasurer, D. Campbell. Delegates were then appointed for South and North ridings of Middlesex and for the ensuing year. On motion of Archibald Sinclair and A. Campbell it was resolved "that we as an association have abiding confidence in our honest and level headed sitting member, R. Boston, M. P., who is our chosen candidate for the forthcoming election." The above resolution was unanimously carried by an enthusiastic standing vote.

A pleasing speech was given by Archibald Sinclair after which the meeting adjourned.

FOUND THE POSTMASTER'S BODY.
Hesper, Ont., Feb. 19.—The body of Jas. McDonald, postmaster of Crief, who perished in the snow storm on Monday night, the 10th inst., was found yesterday in a field about one mile west of his home. The body was almost completely covered with snow, only one of the heels being visible. He had walked nearly eight miles, and had doubtless become exhausted at the spot where the body was found.

An Awful Funny Story was related by Smythe at the club the other night. When the laughter had subsided some one said: "Smythe, I never saw a man change as you have during the past year. A few months ago, you were the most taciturn man imaginable; now you are the life of the party. How is it?" "My dear fellow," replied Smythe, "a year ago I was a sick man. I was suffering from liver and stomach derangements. I was morbid and melancholy, and my friends, the doctor included, thought I was going into consumption. One day some one advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so, and I am a new man. It has actually renewed my youth, and I enjoy life as I have not for years."

Dr. R. V. Pierce: Sir—Allow me to offer my thanks to you for my good health since using your "Golden Medical Discovery." I was but the shadow of a person, so thin and haggard, without one moment's ease; had suffered for years with my stomach and liver, and this spring had a very severe attack of La Grippe. I then commenced using the "Discovery" and my recovery is wonderful. I am 45 years old, and feel as well and strong as I did when 16 years old; my sleep is as sound as an infant's. I remain.

Yours thankfully, R. A. GILES, Arrington, Nelson Co., Va.

Why will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when, by the timely use of Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided. This syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unexcelled for relieving the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc., etc.

A Dinner Pill—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the system. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.
