Performances of Six Trotters Stand Out As Season's Best

During the past racing season some phenomenal trotters appeared, with the result that many new records were made. Brilliant performances featured each meeting of the light harness campaign from Terre Haute to Lexington, making 1910 a red letter year for the light harness sport. Although there were many trotters who attracted widespread attention at intervals by some gallant victory or the smashing of a record, still there were six others that performed so consistently brilliant that they may be classed as the best of the season's crop of phenoms. Included in this sextet are Dudie Archdale, Joan, Colorado E., Hailworthy, General H. and Billy Dudie Archdale was the heaviest money winner. Before the hot weather set in the western trotter was the star of the trotting turf, but as the season progressed she went back. Dudie rallied in the fall, but could not take the measure of her Cleveland rival, Joan, who proved her superiority at Columbus and Lexington. Dudie won $23,759. She started 12 times, was first six times, second five times, and was never worse than third.

winning heats averaged 2:08 and a fraction, which is some record.

Following are tables showing what the "big six" did the past season. DUDIE ARCHDALE, 2:061/4, WON $23,759.

New York Horseman Says Out look Is Bright and Racing Will Be Resumed.

LEGISLATION IS ILLEGAL

Independence League, Backed By Jockey Club, Seeks To Have Anti-Racing Bill Repealed.

Mr. C. J. Fitzgerald, of New York City, presiding judge of the New York Jockey Club, who left this city some days ago for the purpose of cast ing his vote in the big elections, returned to London this morning, and was seen by a reporter at his office at the Cook-Fitzgerald Shoe Company.

Mr. Fitzgerald states that horsemen are very hopeful in New York State witness a prize fight near the village of Palatine, northwest of this city, were disappointed last night. From the Palatine station they had journeyed three reapportionment of the electoral dismiles south to a dance pavilion in a tricts during Governor Hughes' repicnic grove, where they surrendered $3 gime, adopts the course authorities look for, racing will be resumed under the same conditions that existed

The New Yorker used a lively left with some effect through the first three rounds. The court of appeals some years ago decided that any such rearrangement Stewart's left eye was cut in the third of the districts must be accomplished scheme was put through at the special session ordered by Governor Hughes, the horsemen consider this a most important point in their favor.

This special session followed shortly after when a man named Wallace was made senator to fill the vacancy caused by When the bill was again brought up Wallace east the deciding vote, an the anti-racing law went into effect.

The notices that the court of appeal will deal with the matter this winter were served a few days ago, and Mr. Fitzgerald claims, even the most stolid Republicans look for a decision against the Hughes faction. The Independence League has the matter in hand, but is being given the hearty support of the horsemen. Racing Again.

Racing will in all probability be esumed no matter what the outcome is, however. The jockey clubs are seeking to have the famous directors' personal liability bill repealed, and if this can be done meets will no doubt be held. This bill provides that a director of a jockey club, whether he is on the grounds or has no knowledge of any wrong doing, may be punished if gambling is discovered.

Should the court of appeals declare that this special session of 1906 was illegal, matters will be back where they were in that year and there will be no further trouble from Governor Dix, the Democrat, who was elected last week and who is said to favor more liberal policies.
