Colborne St. United Church observed the passing of another year of constructive activity by the holding of anniversary services yesterday. Large congregations were present at both morning and evening services, which were featured by special music by the choir, and earnest and able discourses by the special preacher for the day, Rev. V. T. Mooney, M.A., pastor of Chalmers United Church, Woodstock.

The evening service was followed by a meeting of the young people of the church, who were addressed by

The choir, under the direction o Harry J. D. Moss, organist and choir leader, rendered an exceptionally fine musical program at both services, the soloists being Mrs. F. F. Baker, soprano, Miss Rosa Tuck, con-tralto, and Mr. G. H. Andrewes. Mr. F. H. Westbury, in giving out the announcements at the evening service, paid a warm tribute to the Angelo Russo's concert orchestra, members of the choir and its leader. It was announced that the anni-versary supper, under the auspices "Who Is This Jesus?

Mooney brought out the point that the world was in danger of losing its conception of Jesus as the revealer of God. The present day tendency to place emphasis on Jesus, the man, while it has had many good results, was, to his way of thinking, not without its attendant danger that people would to a certain extent lose sight of his divinity.

theological Christ only, had not been productive of good results, for, while men recited creeds about him in Latin and performed elaborate rituals before him, slavery existed in the world, intemperance and vice were allowed to flourish unrebuked, and secret diplomacy between nations was permitted to flourish until it culminated in the greatest war in history, in the course of which men committed acts which violated all the laws and teachings of Christianity. The result had been a universal

BISHOP DEDICATES E. LONDON CHURCH

Rt. Rev. David Williams Discusses Love For House of God.

WINDOWS BLESSED

History repeated itself when Rt. Rev. David Williams, D.D., D.C.L., bishop of Huron, dedicated the rebuilt St. Mark's Anglican church, Pottersburg, yesterday morning, in the presence of a congregation which taxed the enlarged auditorium to its capacity. It was on July 10, 1910, that Bishop Williams officiated at the first dedication service of St. Mark's church, which began at that time as a mission under the direction of St. Matthew's Anglican church "I want to congratulate you upon what you have done as a congregation. It is more than we expected when we started proceedings in East London, more even than we expected when we began to discuss the ex-tension of the church, and now betension of the church, and now be-hold the beautiful and commodious earnce we have today. If testimony were needed to show your love for God's house, it is shown in the courage, energy and self-sacrifice in un dertaking this building, your stead-fastness in bringing it to culmina-tion. You have done so much in such a little time that I am sure you will ccomplish all that you desire in the future. "I want to congratulate particularly your rector, Rev. A. L. Beverley, who gave up a good, thriving parish to come here in the day of small livings and when there was very little to en-courage him in his work. But, with ourage and faith and the co-opera- and Mrs. Wilbraham of Delemare house, Norwich, and one of the oldest tion of a loyal congregation, you to-gether have achieved great things, and I congratulate you all."

Dedicates Two Windows

Bishop Williams, in addition t dedicating the church, rebuilt at a cost of $15,000 or more, also dedicated two memorial windows, one to the memory of Walter E. Dunston and his wife, Elizabeth Dunston, and the second to the memory of William Mills, both of beautiful stained glass Citing "love for the house of God as "a universal characteristic of the human race," Bishop Williams pointed out four reasons for placing God's house in such a pre-eminent place: First because it is the symbo of the pre-eminent place which God should have in our lives; second because it is the place where we meet with God and He meets with us; third, because it is the place where we refresh our moral and spiritual ideals, and fourth, because it nome of our souls, the symbol of our heavenly home.

Reminding the people of St. Mark's church "that they are entering upon a new and greater page of their history," Bishop Williams urged the congregation "to be loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the congregation to the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the congregation to the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the congregation to the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the congregation to the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the congregation to the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the congregation to the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the loyal to Christ, loyal in their page of the loyal to Christ, loyal in the loyal in the loyal in the loyal to Christ, loyal in the loyal in their personal lives and loval in the extension of the kingdom, be-cause missions are the first mission of the church; to be united for in of his divinity.

On the other hand the tendency of earlier times to magnify Jesus as the work, knowing that God will work with and among them.

Asks Greater Devotion.

"Old Testament saints were either testifying of their love for God's ouse or urging upon the people of Israel devotion to the house of God,' began Bishop Williams, "and thus God's house held a pre-eminent place in their lives and hearts. God en-dorses and consecrates these univer-sal characteristics, for Christ Him-self said: 'I am consumed, I am al! on fire, with love and enthusiasm for My Father's house.

"Things are going wrong in the world because people do not recog-nize they are the children of God," scontinued the bishop, "and as long as God is not put first things will go wrong in our family, city and na-tional life. If we acknowledge God at all it must be to give Him first place, because to put Him second is equivalent to not having Him in our lives at all. God must have the lation of the Volstead act, and Jossupreme and pre-eminent place. eph Lepean, 21, of Eau Claire, Wis., "We come to church to meet God;

STUDENTS URGED TO BE AMBITIOUS

Capacity Crowd Attends Uni versity Night Service at First United Church.

Three ambitions were eloquently urged upon students of the Univer sity of Western Ontario by Rev. Col. Beattie, D.D., C.M.G., speaking in First United church on the occasion of university night last evening.
Commenting upon student days as "fascinating, carefree and happy," Dr. Beattie exhorted the university students, who were present in large numbers, crowding the auditorium to "The keenest fascination about student days," declared Dr. Beattie, "is the fact that here and there are the outcroppings of the pure gold of ambition. Wagons are hitched to stars and high ambitions stir the soul. But the first ambition I would ambition.
