Quebec, Nov. S Destructive fire .- Forty-five houses burns We have to fulfilthe unpleasant duty of re-cording another melancholy, fire which has occured in Champlain Street, the scene of former destructive conflagrations. In 1832 again in 1836, and now in 1838 has a large number of houses been reduced to ashes, and a still larger number of indigent families left without a place on the opening of winter, by fire, in the vicinity of Diamona Harbour. The frequent breaking out of lires in that quarter is no doubt attributa-ble to the large number of low tayoras and boardinghouses which are to be found there; the great destruction of property which invaria-idy cusues is occasioned by the extreme narrawness of the street, a remedy for which it is to be hoped will be provided. Upwards of enethundred and ten houses, we believe, have been destrayed on three occassions an six years, within a space of about an eighth of a mile, in consequence of the circumstances to which we have shove alluded.
