STARR'S POINT, March, 1895.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the value of the Fertilizers sold by you. I used last year five tons of Bradley's Potato Manure on twenty acres of potatoes, with a good deal of satisfaction, averaging nearly 200 bushels per acre from the whole field. Its dryness and mechanical condition seem to me to be perfect. I used it in the Planter without clogging, while other fertilizers that I used were too damp to be used at all in the machine. I got good value for my investment, and shall use it in increased quantities.

Weakness and depression of the nervous system reveals itself in symptoms that are very often mistaken for those of such diseases as dyspepsia, heart trouble, kidney diseases and many others, and the patient is perhaps treated for these, when in reality the whole trouble lies in nerve exhaustion. There is no disease so common among women and none so variable in symptoms or so distressing, the finer physical organization of women making her an easier prey.

The greatest skill of medical science has been directed to the solution of the problem: How shall diseased nerves be made strong, active and healthy? After years of careful attudy the originator of Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic presented his remedy to the public confident that he had produced one that would effect a complete cure of all diseases of the nervous system. The subsequent history of Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic has completely proved that he was right. Thousands upon thousands of men and women who were the victims of shattered nerves have been by its agency restored to "Now, sir, who was right that time?" she That evening the matter was talked over quite frankly. When Mrs. Goodwin understood the little ruse Jeannette had carried out for her enjoyment, she was greatly "Why, Nettie!" she said, and the tears rubbers when they are worn out. Mr. Clement very willingly imparted some of the salient points concerning their disposal. Reckoning the population of this state in round numbers as 400,000, and allowing two and one-half pounds per year as the amount worn by each person, it would amount to 1,000,000 pounds or 500 tons, annually. This estimate will hold good throughout the United States, where there is as much snow

as we have here. The ragmen whose voices are so often neard in our streets, go from house to house picking these rubbers and bringing them in. They are then pressed into a bale containing about 900 pounds, and shipped to the manufacturers of rubber goods. All the dirt, iron nails and cloth are removed from them, and they are then ground up and reduced to a soft or pulpy substance somewhat like caout-chouc, or rubber, the latter of which, as is well known, comes principally from South America, and is obtained from the sap of a ertain kind of tree there. The old and new rubber are then mixed, the proportion of each varying with the stock they are intended to be used for. This mixture is then used for the manufacture of rubber footwear of all kinds, belting, hose, wearing apparel, mechanical goods, etc. Outside of this city, Mr. Clement has over one hundred men gathering for him in the states of New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine, who are sending him nearly 2,000 pounds each day, and he expects to handle during this season nearly, if not quite, 300 While rubbers are the main thing in this business, large quantities of iron, metals and rags are also bought and disposed of.—Man-To Make Pure Blood.

-Here is just a feather to show which way the wind blows. Twenty-five years ago the practical application of electricity was unknown. To-day untold millions are invested in electrical machinery, and steam is creeping out of sight to make way for harnessed lightning. If our great-grandfathers were to make an excursion of a couple of weeks to their old homes they would grow so dizzy that they would hardly be able to find their way back to Heaven.
