

better than sacrifice.*— Why God chooses the humble — Stubbornness is idolatry — Delusive power of Satan — Saul's character a reflection of that of Israel . . . . . 627-636

CHAPTER LXII.

THE ANOINTING OF DAVID.

The boyhood of David — A king to be anointed from the house of Jesse — The prophet's inspection — Man sees not as God seeth — The shepherd boy summoned — The intimation of a high destiny — Content to await God's providences — Nature a revelation of God — The songs of David an inspiration to God's people . . . . . 639-642

CHAPTER LXIII.

DAVID AND GOLIATH.

Saul's despair — David called to play before him — David's courage and faith — War with the Philistines — David moved by a divine impulse to save Israel — Goliath's challenge — David offers to meet the champion — A sling and a staff — The battle is the Lord's . . . . . 643-648

CHAPTER LXIV.

DAVID A FUGITIVE.

Friendship of David and Jonathan — David set over the men of war — Saul's jealousy — David escapes the king's spear — The plots against David's life — Jonathan's faithfulness to his friend — David flees to Ramah — Saul among the prophets — The priest assuages David's hunger with bread from the sanctuary — Doeg — David with the king of Gath — In the wilds of Judah — The cave of Adullam — David's band — Saul destroys the priests . . . . . 649-659

CHAPTER LXV.

THE MAGNANIMITY OF DAVID.

The son of Ahimelech — Jonathan's visit — In the cave of En-gedi — David spares Saul — Death of Samuel — David in the wilderness of Paran — Nabal — Evil for good — Abigail — Influence of a consecrated Christian life — Receiving reproof — Among the Ziphites — Saul again in pursuit — David and Abishai in the king's camp — The spear and the cruse of water — David goes to Gath — His lack of trust in God — The purpose of Achish — David true to Israel . . . . . 660-672