

er and roads were most favorable, so that a most enjoyable week was spent, and twenty dollars were contributed for Foreign Missions. A very successful entertainment was held.

On the whole we are making good progress, for the people are taking a lively interest in all Church work. Before Easter we hope to start a Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and a Company of the Boys' Brigade.

EATON.

The Lord Bishop spent a busy Sunday in this parish on 19th November.

The Services began with Holy Communion in St. Peter's Church, Cookshire, at 8 a.m., with a large number of Communicants. Mattins were said at 9 a.m., and at 10.30, the usual hour of Service, the Church was crowded. The Sacrament of Baptism was first administered to five children, and this was followed by the Confirmation Service, when eight candidates received the laying on of hands.

The occurrence of three of the Church's Holy Rites gave the Bishop an opportunity to enforce the lesson visibly brought before the people, and he did so in two excellent Addresses. The next Service held was at Eaton Corner, where Church Services have been re-opened by the Rector after a lapse of nearly seventy-five years. His Lordship preached to a large and varied congregation in the old Congregational Chapel. No Bishop had visited Eaton Corner since the time of Bishop Stewart. The Service at Eaton Corner was over at 3 a.m., and we had to drive quickly to reach St. Luke's Church, Sandhill (eight miles from Eaton Corner), in time for Confirmation Service at 4 p.m. St. Luke's was crowded with a most attentive congregation, and nine candidates were confirmed.

The sixth Service with Address by the Bishop was given at Johnville, at 7 p.m., in the excellent Hall which was built especially for religious Services. Here the Congregation is always large, but on that evening the Hall could not contain all who wished to find entrance. Two adults were baptized, and the Bishop most clearly expounded the doctrine of the Church and the Sacraments, to a Congregation of whom less than a quarter were Church people. Altogether His Lordship must have preached to more than seven hundred people, and the result of his visit has been stimulating to both Rector and people.

Church Extension in Eaton.—In the Autumn of 1886 Reverend Arthur H. Judge, now of New York, then Rector of Eaton, found that his work had so extended that it was beyond the power of one man to carry it on. He was asked to state the case and explain the wants of the District at the annual meeting of the Church Society in Sherbrooke. This he did most clearly and forcibly. The present Rector of Eaton, who was then a student at Bishop's College, was one of the audience. Those present were greatly stirred by the address of Mr. Judge, endorsed as it was by the Archdeacon, and a bold advance in Church Extension was resolved upon. Mr. Lloyd, a Lay Reader, was sent to assist Mr. Judge, who then had two Townships, Eaton and Newport, with five Churches under his care. In September, 1887, Rev. A. H. Robertson replaced Mr. Lloyd as Assistant to Mr. Judge, and on January 1st, 1888, when Mr. Judge left for New York, the Township of Newport was set off as the first Mission of the Church Extension movement with Mr. Robertson as Incumbent. How this Church Extension movement has grown and expanded far beyond our expectations, is now a matter of thankfulness and joy to us all. The three new Missions, which seemed as many as we dared to expect, have grown to be seven. And "history repeats itself" in the Parish of Eaton. Last Autumn the present Rector of Eaton found that the work had again expanded so that help was needed or the Church work must be left undone. He stated the case to the Bishop and the Archdeacon, and was asked to state the case and a solution of it before the meeting of the Church Society at Sherbrooke. This was done by the Archdeacon, and the result is that Eaton has been again divided. A new Mission has again been formed with the Professor of Pastoral Theology as Incumbent, and the Rector of Eaton will open up new work in a District hitherto untouched by the Church.

NORTH HATLEY.

The following brief description of the new Anglican Church of St. Barnabas, recently opened here, in part of the Rev. Ernest King's Mission, will interest many of our readers.

The building is sixty feet long by twenty-five feet wide with walls ten feet high and steep roof. The East end is narrowed for the chancel to eleven feet wide and eight feet deep. The walls are double boarded, papered and shingled, a unique exterior finish for this part of the country. The inside walls are to be sheathed in patterned ash and the open roof with bass wood. On the
