

realism, it is imperative that parties co-operate to find political solutions within the context of the principles enunciated in the resolution. We have before us a proposal for the first steps towards such solutions. We urge all member states to offer their full support.